To the Virtuous and Religious Gentlewoman, Mrs. M. P.

IT is not the excellency of the Gift, but your Goodness that must render this small Manual acceptable to you, of which having had so great experience, I cannot doubt its continuance.

And knowing your devout Inclinations toward books of this nature, I could not think of a more pleasing return for your many Favours, than this Jacobs Ladder, whereby your Soul may Ascend to Heaven, and make known all your wants, and (by Faith accompanying your Prayers) may receive answers to all your holy Desires, and Petitions.

I doubt not but many have done Wortoily, yea, much excelled in this kind;
but I have found, though there are many

The Epistle

Manuals of private Devotion; yet there are very few for Families, which Want, have heard complained of; and therefore though I could not better employ my vacant hours, than to make a Collection of some dayly Prayers, that might be both plain, and pertinent: and indeed, the Family-Devotions were my first design only I thought that to make it complete and conformable to others of this nature it will be convenient to add some Private and Occasional Devotions, together with some brief Meditations of the vanity of mans life, and certainty of his death which we can never too much think of, nor too soon prepare for.

If you, or any other, reap any benefit by it, I have my desire; If it be not well it is because I could not help it; however I doubt not but you will accept the will for the deed, because it is from

Your devoted Servant

Preparations to Devotion.

PRemeditation is the preparation to Private Prayer; Private to Publick; Private and Publick, to the hearing of the Word; to Private and Publick Prayer, together with the hearing of the Word, to the worthy participation of the holy Sacrament: For the Sacrament receives strength and vigour from the Word, the Word preached from publick Prayer: publick Prayer from private devotion, and that from Premeditation, and Pre-consideration of the nature of Devotion, and the necessity of preparation it self to all holy duties in the immediate worship of God.

Preparations

What Devotion is.

Devotion is the hearts warmth, or rather the life-blood of Religion: It is a sacred bond knitting the Soul unto God: It is a Spiritual Muscle moving only upward, and lifting the heart, eyes, and hands continually to Heaven.

Whosoever desires to make a Divine Prayer, must by Premeditation frame in his mind,

First the Form which must be,

1. Short, or conceived in as few words as may be.

2. Conformable in all things to the Pattern, the Lords prayer.

Secondly, The Matter, which consists of three parts.

1. Humble Confession.

2. Confident Invocation, Petition or Supplication.

3. Heartly Thanksgiving.

1. In humble Confession set before thee.

1. God, his terrible name, glorious

ous Majesty, All-seeing-Eye, Infinite Purity, strict Justice, Fierce wrath against Sin.

2. Man his vileness, wretchedness, sinfulness, wants and inability.

2. In the second part, Invocation, and Petition, fix thy thoughts.

1. On God, his love to man, his mercy and long suffering, his gracious promises, and his omnipotent goodness.

2. On Christ his perfect obedience, his plenary satisfaction, his perpetual Intercession.

In the third, which is hearty Thanksgiving, recount Gods benefits.

1. Spiritual, as Election, Creation, Redemption, Vocation, Justification, Sanctification, and hope of Glorification.

2. Temporal, as Health, Strength, Wealth, Liberty, good Name, Friends, and Safety.

Some Texts of Scripture, which may be orderly applyed to every one of the foregoing particulars.

Preparations

When you pray, use not vain Re-petitions, as the Heathen do, for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking, Matt. 6. 7.

After this manner pray ye, Mat. 6. 9.

I said I will confesse my Transgressions to the Lord, and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Psal. 32. 5.

Let them praise thy great and terrible Name, for it is holy, Psal. 99. 3.

Who is the King of glory, even the Lord of Hosts, he is the King of glory, Psal. 24. 10.

Mine eyes are upon all their ways, they are not hid from my face, neither is their Iniquity hid from my eyes, Jer. 16. 17.

And one cryed to another and said, Holy, Holy, holy, is the Lord of Hosts, Isai. 6. 3.

Who will render to every man according to his works, Rom. 2. 6.

Thou, even thou art to be feared, and who may stand in thy sight when thou art angry? Psal. 76. 7.

Surely every man is altogether vanity, Psal. 39. 11. ○

to Devotion.

O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death, Rom. 7. 24.

We are all as an unclean thing, and all our Righteousness is as filthy rags, Isai. 64. 6.

Without me ye can do nothing, John 15. 5.

All things whatsoever you shall ask in prayer, believing, you shall receive, Mat. 21. 22.

God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believed in him should not perish, but should have everlasting life, John 3. 16.

The Lord is merciful, and Gracious, slow to anger, and plentiful in mercy, Psal. 103. 8, 11.

Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest, Mat. 11. 28.

Though your sins are as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like Crimson, they shall be as wool, Isai. 1. 18.

Preparations

They that sow in tears shall reap in joy, Psal. 126. 5.

To him that is able to do exceeding abundantly, above that we ask or think, be glory, &c. Eph. 3. 20.

Thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God, by thy blood, Rev. 5. 9.

Christ is entred into Heaven, now to appear in the presence of God for us, Heb. 9. 24.

Giving thanks always, for all things to God, and the Father, Eph. 5. 20.

What shall I render to the Lord for all his benefits, Psal. 116. 12.

God hath, from the beginning, chosen you to Salvation through sanctification of the spirit, &c. 2 Thes. 2. 13.

Thy hands have made me, and fashioned me, Psal. 119. 73.

Blessed be the Lord, for he hath visited and redeemed his people, Luke 1. 68.

I am not come to call the Righteous, but sinners to repentance, Mat. 9. 13. Being to Deviation.

Being justified by his grace, we shall be made Heirs, according to the hope of eternal life, Tit. 3. 7.

Such were some of you, but ye are washed, ye are sanctified, 1 Cor. 6. 11.

Thou shalt guide me with thy Counsel, and afterward receive me to Glory, Psal. 73. 24.

Bless the Lord, O my Soul, and forget not all his benefits, Psal. 103. 2.

The Lord killeth and maketh alive, he bringeth down to the grave, and bringeth up, 1 Sam. 2. 6.

It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect, Psal. 18. 32.

Also the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before, Job ult.

Thou hast set me at liberty when I was in thrall, Psal. 4. 1.

And these all having obtained good report, through Faith, receive not the promise, Heb. 11. 39.

Ointment and Perfumere joyce thy heart, so doth the sweetness of a mans friend by hearty Counsel.

Thou

Thou Lord only makest me dwell in safety, Psal. 4. 8.

The Lord shall preserve thee from evil, he shall preserve thy Soul, Psal.

A Preparatory Hymn Collected out of divers Psalms.

THou sayest: seek ye my face, my heart saith unto thee, Thy face Lord will I seek, Psal. 27. 8.

Hide not thy face far from me, nor put thy servant away in anger, vers. 9.

Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy spirit from me, Psal. 51. 11.

Hear O Lord when I cry unto thee, have mercy also upon me and answer me, Psal. 27. 7.

Ponder my words, O Lord consider my meditation, Psal. 5. 1.

My heart is inditing a good matter, my tongue is the pen of a ready writer, Psal. 45. 1. O

to Devotion.

O Lord open thou my lips, and my lips shall shew forth thy praise,
Psal. 51. 15.

Let my prayer be set forth before thee as Incense, and the lifting up of my hands as an Evening Sacrifice,
Psal. 141. 2.

Set a watch O Lord before my mouth, and keep the door of my lips, Psal. 141. 3.

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord my strength and my Redeemer, Psal.
19. 14.

An Exhortation to stir up Christians to Prayer.

Payer is of that force and virtue, that it ties the ear of God to the tongue of man: O it is an acceptable Incense to God always, for how hath he always rewarded it, and regarded it? It never returned but with a blessing, so that the Prayer be sent up out of a pure and upright heart, mingled with Faith; for we must ask in Faith, and waver not, as St. James saith.

By fervent Prayer the children of Israel were delivered from the Egyptian bondage, as you may read, That when they cryed unto the Lord, he heard them, and delivered them out of their Enemies hands: Therefore let us continually pray unto God both Morning and Evening, and let us call and cry unto him, for a blessing upon us, and desire him to preserve us, and to remove his Judgments from us. To which end, I have thought good to frame this Manual of private Devotions, for a help to those that may want them.

Private Devotions.

A Prayer for Sunday-Morning.

A Lmighty God, the blessed Creator and Finisher of the Salvation of Mankind, who in memory of thy glorious Rest from both thy noble works, hast blessed and sanctified a day of holy rest unto thy self, sanctify me for it, that laying aside my accustomed business, and sequestering my thoughts from all worldly cares, I may keep it and my self holy to thee, by dedicating and devoting my self wholly to thy peculiar worship, and immediate service, and to the end that this my Religious service may be more acceptable to thee, quicken me with thy Spirit, that I may perform it with all alacrity crity and cheerfulness, and may make thy Sabbath my delight. Touch my Heart and Tongue with a coal from thy Altar, that from the sweet Incense of my Meditations, Hymns, Prayers, and Thanksgivings, thou mayest smell a savour of Rest. O Prince of Peace, sanctify thy rest unto me, that I may find rest to my Soul from all temptations, troubles, and fears, and may rest from my own works which are painful and sinful travels, and may imploy this day, all the powers and faculties of my Soul and Body in doing and considering thy works, in adoring thy Majesty, and admiring thy wisdom, and acknowledging thy Power, and embracing thy Love, and magnifying thy goodness, and rejoycing in thy Mercies, and trembling at thy Judgments; In visiting thy holy Temple, and praising thee with thy Saints, and offering up the Calves of my lips; In diligently reading thy Scriptures, attentively hearing thy Word,

reverently celebrating thy Myſteries, charitably relieving thy Members, & zealouſly praſtizing all holy duties both publick and private! O let me this Whole day walk with thee as Enoch ſometimes did, and talk with thee as Moses did, and ſeek thy Face as David did: And grant, that beholding thine Image in thy holy Word, as in a clear and Chriſtal Mirrour, I may be changed into the ſame Image, even from Glory to Glory. Let this Sabbath put me in mind of thy Holy reſt from thy works, and aſſure me thereby of an Everlaſting Sabbath in Heaven from my Works;
into which reſt, that I may enter, ſtir up good deſires in me, raiſe my thoughts and affections to the things which are above, renew me according to the Image of thy Son, and frame my Life to a Heavenly con-verſation, enlighten my underſtanding, ſanctify my will, moderate my deſires, govern my affections, mortifie my fleſhly members, deſtroy

stroy the man of sin in me, and deliver me from the Body of death: work in me a fear of thy power, and a love of thy goodness, and zeal of thy glory, and thirst after thy grace, and an earnest desire and constant resolution (as much as in me lyeth) to approve my self to thee in all things, and frame all my actions to the rule of thy Word. Hear me, I beseech thee, for thy Church, and thy Church for me, and Christ for us all, saying, Our Father, &c.

A Prayer for Sunday Evening.

HOly, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty, which wast, which art, and which art to come; Hollow my nature, that I may Hollow thy Name: As thou impartest thy goodness to me, whereby I live and move in thee; communicate to me some measure of thy Holiness, that I may live and move to thee. Let thy Spirit of grace possess my Body and Soul.

Soul, that the desires of my mind, and thoughts of my heart, and words of my lips, may be holiness unto thee: Sanctifie me that I may glorifie thee. And first with Joy and Thankfulness I acknowledg it a special Testimony of thy love, that thou hast given me liberty, and meanes to keep a holy Sabbath unto thee, to meet in thy House, to offer up my Joynt-Prayers, and thanksgiving, with thy Holy congregation, to confess my sin, to profess my faith, to lay open my wants, to clear up my self, by Singing the sweet Songs of Sion, to hear thy Sacred Word read, and Preached; whereby my faith hath been strengthened in the Mysteries of Salvation, my hope established in the promises of the Gospel, and my life set forward in a settled course of holyness, and righteousness, whereby the Kingdom of sin and Satan is beat down and destroyed, and the Kingdom of Christ built up in me; By this thy Word, the careless sinner is admonished, the ignorant ignorant instructed, the presumptuous terrified, and the Penitent comforted, the Power of sin is abated, the force of temptations weakned, the motions of the Spirit quickned, grace received, and my Election assured by the infallible marks and tokens thereof, set before me in holy Scriptures. Blessed be thy Name for it, this day thy word hath dwelt with me richly in all wisdom: The dispencer of thy Mysteries hath scattered many Doctrines, like so many Pearls among the People; Lord grant that with Mary I may keep these and all thy sayings in my heart, and make use of them in my life, and receive comfort from them at my Death. And here I would proceed to intreat at thy hands, the continuance and increase of thy Spiritual & Temporal blessings upon me; but my sins lye at the door of my Conscience, and affright me. My heart smites me for my failings, in the performance of the duties of this day:

My devout meditations have been stifled in the womb that bare them, my Prayers have not been without distractions, my hearing without wearisomness, nor my Alms-deeds without Grudging: Pardon, dear Father, the want of preparation before I come to thy house, of intention and Zeal at thy service; and of Meditation and Application of those things which I heard there, since I came thence. Bury I beseech thee these slips, and all my sins, especially of this week and day, in the night of eternal oblivion. Ease me of the burthen of them, that I may more securely repose my soul and body upon thy gracious protection, to take their natural refreshing by sleep, whereby I may be enabled and strengthened to do the better service the next day, in walking carefully, diligently, conscionably, and constantly, in the wayes of thy Commandements, and in the duties of my Calling; so as may be to thy honour

A Prayer for Munday-Morning.

Most Glorious Lord God, the great Creator and preserver of all mankind; Blessed be thy Name that thou hast been graciously pleased to preserve me the night past, and that thou hast once more vouchsafed me the light of the Morning, whereby to manage my affairs and business; O Lord preserve me this day, and keep me in all my wayes, Give unto me the repose of a quiet Conscience, and the clear light of the Gospel, to guide my feet in the way of peace; and grant that this light may convince me of the Errors of my understanding, the depravedness of my will, the disorder of my affections, the Impunity of my thoughts; the vanity of my desires, the deceitfulness of my heart, and the wickedness thereof. Make me sensible O Lord what a wretched creature I was in my birth, slime and filthiness; what I am in my life, vanity and folly; and what shall be in my death, stench and rottenness, Discover unto me O Lord that I have nothing, which I have not received; that without Christ, I can do nothing; that in me, that is, in my flesh dwelleth no good; that I am not able of my self (as of my self) to think a good thought; that I cannot desire to think, nor have will to desire, nor grace to will any good: O Lord let me consider, that my comforts in this world, are very few and small; my crosses and troubles many and great; my pleasures here are momentary and short, my pains hereafter (without my repentance, and thy great mercy) are permanent and everlasting: My gifts O Lord are very small, my wants and infirmities are great, my helps are weak, my assaults and temptations are strong, my good deeds are few, and they tainted with Imperfections, but my ill deeds are infinite. Let these considerations, O Lord, humble me in my self, that Christ may raise me; and wound me in my self, that Christ may heal me. And O Lord, who this day madest the Heavens or Air, without which I cannot breath naturally, nor not for a moment; infuse into my heart the Spirit of thy grace, without which I cannot breath Spiritually in my Prayers, nor sigh, nor so much as move any part or faculty of my soul or body unto thee; and as oft as I take in, or let out the air which I breath, let receive me in grace from thee, and breathe out praise unto thee. Be my guide, O Lord, this day, and do thou keep me both Now and Ever, Amen.

A Prayer for Munday-Evening.

HOly and Eternal Lord God, who art the King of Heaven and the Watchman of Israel, who never slumberest nor sleepest; Look upon me thy unworthy servant, who by reason of my sin and the corruption of my nature, am wholly subject to sloth, and am even now ready to ease and rest my self upon my bed: I know not whether thou wilt this very night make my bed in the dark; and the hour of my visitation be this present Evening; all my years are but a span long, my dayes pass like a Weavers Shuttle; my life ends like a Tail that is told; this hour may be my last hour, my next sleep may be my last and long sleep: I beseech thee therefore, that I may every Evening seriously ponder and meditate upon heaven, that I may be the better prepared in that day and hour that thou shalt call me: And though my Eyes shall now sleep, and enjoy that moderate derate refreshment which thou hast appointed for the wearisome condition of my weak body, yet let my soul continually watch unto thee, to attend thy coming. Forgive me, O Lord, the sins of this day past, and all other my former sins and misdemeanors; keep me this night both in body and soul, that I may with the next light joyfully rise again. Let not my sleep be unmeasurable and excessive, to please the ease of my flesh, but sufficient and seasonable, whereby I may be the better disposed to thy service to morrow, diligently and fruitfully walking in my calling, and repenting me of my sins, with fear to offend thee.

Let thy unspeakable mercy alwayes preserve me, let thine endless sweetness rejoyce me, let thine heavenly truth strengthen me, let thy knowledg imbolden me, and thy goodness keep me from my Enemies, visible and invisible, now and for Evermore. Amen. Our Father, &c.

A Prayer for Tuesday Morning.

O Eternal Lord God, thou commandest us alwayes, at all times, and in all things, to call upon thee; day by day, I come unto thee, begging refreshment from the overflowing streams of thy mercy; O Lord open unto me the gate of thy favour, and let me be satisfied with the fountain of thy loving kindness. O merciful Lord, who hast said, As surely as I live, I desire not the death of a sinner, but rather that he should Convert and Amend, and Live; Who hast also said, Call upon me in the day of trouble, and I will deliver thee; have mercy upon me for Jesus Christ his sake, whom thou wouldest should be a peacemaker, to the end that thou mightest shew thine exceeding great Wrath against sin, and thine inestimable mercy towards Mankind, sanctifie and illuminate my heart with thy holy Spirit. O God the guide of my life, forsake me not, turn from me the filthiness of desire. Turne mine Eyes away from beholding vanity, strengthen me in thy wayes, and grant that mine offences in this world overcome me not, and I beseech thee, O Lord, with a most ardent affection, that this day and ever thou wilt keep me, and all mine, and that thou wilt be unto me a Mighty Protector, a firmament of strength, a covering against heat, a shadow at noon-tide, a defence from falling, an assister from offending, a comforter of my soul, an enlightner of my mind, a giver of health and happiness in Christ Jesus, my Lord and Saviour; To whom be all glory, honour, and power, for ever. Amen.

Our Father. &c.

A Prayer for Tuesday-Evening.

Most mighty and most merciful Lord God, by whose goodness I was created, by whose Justice I am punished, and by whose mercy I

I am saved; I cast my self down before thee, and lift up my hands unto thee at this present as my Evening-sacrifice, but alas my conscience accuseth me, the secret cogitations of my heart reprove me, my fear checketh me, the infinite number of my sins oppresses me, yea, my miscarriages this day witness against me, and exceedingly condemn me; O Lord what am I, that thou shouldest yet favour me and shew thy self so loving and bountiful a Father unto me? why should'st thou so nourish me, who am so unworthy a wretch, with thy mercy and loving-kindness? I know that it is for His sake in whom there is no guile, and in whom there was found no evil, that thou regardest me and imbracest me; Pardon, I beseech thee, through Jesus Christ, all my sins, faults, vices, and offences, and indue me with all holy vertues; make me to live a godly life, and to continue to the end in good works; Take away all darkness from my mind, that I may see thee by understanding thee, and love thee by knowing thee. And grant O Lord, that I may so keep, and govern, and end my life, that I may sleep in peace and rest in thee; and so into thy hands I commend my self, both soul and body, this night and for ever. Hide me I beseech thee under the shadow of thy Wings, that I may rest quietly, void of all fear, spiritual darkness, danger and despair; comfort me in all those things wherein I have been any way discouraged this day; Preserve me to the end, that sleep with rest, and rest with quietness, and quietness with everlastingness, may receive me, that having run the race of this life, I may be made partaker of a better; that so I may live and reign with thee for ever, through Jesus Christ my Lord and only Saviour. Amen.
B 4 mind,

A Prayer for Wednesday-Morning.

HOly Lord God, the glorious face of the Sun, which sheweth it self, and casteth its beams over the whole World, I take it for an argument and earnest of thy good will toward thy Children, in the number of whom I account my self, though the chief of Sinners, and not worthy to loose the latchet of thy shooe, for if we enjoy such benefits in this strange country, together with thine Enemies, then what joy and glory, what excellent goodness shall we be made partakers of, when we come to our heavenly country, the blessed land of Canaan, where we shall not see this earthly Sun, but thou, O Lord, who art the Son of Righteousness will be continually before us. And now, O Lord, I Praise thy blessed name for preserving me from the many dangers of the Night past, and for bringing me safe to the beginning of this day; As thou hast now wakened my Body from sleep, so, I beseech thee, awaken my Soul from sin, and carnal Security, and as thou hast caused the Light of the day to shine in my bodily Eyes, so, good Lord, cause the light of thy word, and holy Spirit to illuminate my heart, and give me grace as a Child of Light, to walk in all holy obedience before thy face this day; and grant me to endeavour to keep a good Conscience towards thee, & toward all men, in all my thoughts, words, and dealings; and to this end I commend my self, and all my ways and actions, together with all that do belong to me, unto thy gracious direction and protection, beseeching thee to keep both them and me from all evil, and to give a blessing to my honest Labours and endeavours, this day following, and for evermore.

Amen.

A Prayer for Wednesday Evening.

O Most Mighty Lord God, and most mercifull and loving Father in thy Son Jesus Christ: I sinful Creature am bold to return unto thee, all possible Praise and thanks for all thy great and manifold favours, which thou in thy mercy hast from time to time vouchsafed unto me a sinful wretch, who am full of sin, and iniquity. I beseech thee, favourably to hear my imperfect prayers, and to grant my requests, and needful suits, which I make unto thee at this time: Forgive me I intreat thee good Father, all the sins that I have committed from day to day against thy divine Majesty, and suffer me not, O Lord, to offend thee any more hereafter, that neither sin nor Satan, nor any unruly passions may have dominion, nor reign any longer in my mortal body: for I confess I have herein done wickedly, and have broken all thy commandments, ments; for which thou mightest in thy severe Justice, punish me both in Soul and Body, to eternal Death, besides those sins which I have this day committed. Forgive me O Lord all my sins past, and blessed be thy name that thou hast kept me this day in my going out, and in my returning home. O Lord watch over me this night, and be thou my defence and protection, from all dangers, casualties, and troubles; grant that I be not overcome with any fantasies, and dreams, or other Temptations, but that I may fully set my mind upon thee; love thee, fear thee, and rest in thee, and thou, O Lord, waken me again in due time, that I may behold the light of the next day, to my comfort, still preparing my heart and mind to thy service every day, and my whole life time in truth and sincerity, that when I have run the short race of this mortal life, thou mayest be pleased to call me to be partaker of a better; and so I may

A Prayer for Thursday-Morning.

Blessed and glorious Lord God, thy mercys are infinite, and thy long-suffering and patience is exceeding great, else had not I a poor wretched miserable sinner been spared so long, considering my many provocations against thee, in thought word and deed; but thou hast exalted thy mercy above all thy works, and of thine infinit goodness hast preserved me this night, and hast given me the light of this day: Lead me, I beseech thee, O Lord, and guide me this day in the way of all truth and righteousness, and so govern all my my actions that I may not run into any Sin, or any kind of danger, but that all my Actions may tend to thy glory, and the discharge of my duty, in my life and Conversation; defend and deliver me also from all temptations, and afflictions, in this sinful world, and from all mine Enemies, and from all the deceits and dangers of Satan, the deadly Enemy of Mankind. Kindle in my heart and affections a fervent Zeal to do thy will, and let me imbrace thy holy word, and walk in thy wayes, strengthen me with thy holy Spirit, boldly and constantly to profess the honour and service of thy great name. O Lord, strengthen my weak faith; Kindle it more and more in fervency and love to reward thee, and in all Christian love towards my Neighbours. Give me a contented mind with my estate, and all other blessings which thou, O Lord God, of thy bountiful goodness in mercy hast bestowed

A Prayer for Thursday-Evening.

O Heavenly Father, the giver of all good things, and the Protector of all those that love thee, I yield thee most humble and hearty thanks, not only for keeping and preserving me this day, but also all my life, that neither my Enemies have prevailed against me as they might, nor any other danger which in this world is incident to Mankind, hath overcome me; but that thou as a loving father, and careful purveyor, hast given unto me, and provided for me, all things necessary; for which thine inestimable love I cannot sufficiently praise thee; O Lord forgive me mine offences, which this day I have committed, and done against thy most holy Majesty; pardon them O God, for Jesus Christ his sake, and vouchsafe me thy grace to amend my life, and to return unfeignedly unto thee in serving of thee ; And since I cannot have a being without thy continual Protection, be pleased to extend the same toward me (a wretched poor creature) this night, that I may quietly take my rest, which thou hast appointed for the refreshing of my weak and wearied body. I beseech thee, O Lord, to guard me and defend me, that nothing hurt me ; preserve me by the watching of thy holy Angel, that I may take my rest with thee, until the morning ; and that I may then give my self to the fulfilling of my duty, and the discharge of my calling, and the doing of thy will unto my lives end. Here me, I beseech thee, for these things, and for all things necessary for me, and for all others whom thou hast commanded me to pray for, even for all such as are in any kind of Affliction in body or mind. O Lord, Strengthen them, and

A Prayer for Friday Morning.

HOly, and moſt Gracious Lord God, who art full of loving Kindneſs and Mercy, and art a continual Defence to all that truſt in thee, whether they wake or ſleep, I a poor unworthy Sinner, render unto thee humble and hearty thanks, that it hath pleaſed thy Great Goodneſs to keep and preſerve me the Night paſt, as well from all my Enemies, as from all other casualties and dangers that poor mortal Creatures are ſubject unto, and that thou haſt given me ſweet and pleaſant ſleep, that I find my Body refreshed and comforted, for performing the Duties of this Day. O Lord, I beseech thee, show thy goodness to me this Day, in preserving my Body and Soul, that no evil may overtake me, and that I may neither speak nor do any thing that may be displeasing to thy Fatherly Goodness, nor dangerous to my Soul, nor hurtful to my Neighbour, but that all my enterprises may be agreeable to thy most blessed Will, by doing always that which may advance thy Glory, and be suitable to my calling; that whensoever thou shalt be pleased to call me from this Vale of Misery, I may be found a Child of Light, and not of darkness, and so may for ever Reign with thee in Glory, who art the True and Everlasting Light, whose Kingdome is an Everlasting Kingdome, whose Joyes and Glories are such as Eye hath not seen, neither hath Ear heard, nor hath it entered

A Prayer for Friday Evening.

GRacious Lord, and heavenly Father, I cannot cease but I must cry unto thee for mercy, because my sins cry against me for Justice, how shall I address my self unto thee, but with the Publican, I must stand and admire thy goodness toward me, considering thy tender mercy, and long patience toward me, in that thou hast kept me this day past from being consumed, and brought to naught? for Lord, what is man, or the son of man, man, that thou regardest him? for the more days past over my head, the more sins and iniquities I heap up against thee; if I should cast up the Accounts of my good deeds this day, O Lord how few and how small would they be? but if I should reckon up my miscarriages this day, surely they would amount to many and great. O blessed Father, let thy sons blood wash me, and cleanse me from all my impurities, and from all the stains of sin that are upon me; give me grace to lay fast hold upon his merites, that it may be my Reconciliation and Attonement unto thee; that I may assure my self, that my sins are forgiven by his death and passion. And now, O Lord, I beseech thee, to imbrace me in the Armes of thy mercy; vouchsafe to receive me into the bosom of thy love, shadow me with thy wings, that I may safely take my rest in thee this night; in the Name of thy Son

Son Jesus Christ, in whom I refer my self wholly to thy protection, beseeching thee, that when this life shall end, my last sleep being come, I may take my everlasting rest with thee in thy heavenly Kingdome, for the glory of thy holy Name, and to my eternal comfort; through the merits of thy dearly beloved Son, my Lord, and only Saviour; in whose perfect form of Prayer, I conclude my imperfect Petitions, saying,

A Prayer for Saturday Morning.

them, and sanctifie my heart with thy Holy Spirit, that I may henceforth lead a more Godly, and Religious life. And here, O Lord, I praise thy Holy Name, for that thou hast refreshed me this Night with moderate sleep and rest: And I beseech thee, to defend me this day from all Perils, and dangers of Body and Soul; and to this end I commend my self, and all my actions, unto thy blessed protection and government, beseeching thee, that whether I live or die, I may live and die to thy Glory, and the Salvation of my poor Soul, which thou hast bought with thy precious Blood: Bless me, O Lord, in my going out, and comming in; and grant, that whatsoever I shall think, speak, or take in hand this day, may tend to the glory of thy Name, the good of others, and the comfort of my own Conscience, when I shall come to make up my last accounts before thee. O my God,

God, help thy servant, that I do no evil to any man this day; and let it be thy blessed will, not to suffer the Devil, nor any of his wicked Angels, nor any of his evil Members, to have power to do me any hurt or violence; but let the eye of thy holy providence watch over me for good, and not for evil; and command thy holy Angels to pitch their Tents round about me, for my defence and Safety in my going out, and coming in, as thou hast promised they shall do about them that fear thy name; Grant this O heavenly Father, for Jesus Christ thy sons sake, in whose blessed name I give thee glory, and beg at thy hands, all other graces which thou seest to be needful, for me this day and ever, in that prayer which Christ himself hath taught me, saying.

A Prayer for Saturday-Evening.

O Most gracious God, and loving Father, who are about my Bed, and knowest my down-lying, and mine up-rising, and art near unto all that call upon thee in truth and sincerity; I wretched sinner do beseech thee to look upon me with the Eyes of thy Mercy; Father, I beseech thee, let thy holy Spirit work in me such a serious Repentance, as that I may with Tears lament my sins past, with grief of heart be humbled for my sins present, and with all my endeavour, resist the same sins for the time to come. And now, O Lord, I Bless thee for my Health, Food, Rayment, and Prosperity, and more especially, that thou hast defended me this day now past, from all dangers and Perils both of Body and Soul, furnishing me with all necessary good things things, that I stand in need of; and as thou hast ordained the Day for man to Travel in, and the Night for him to take his rest, so I beseech thee sanctifie unto me this Nights rest and sleep, that I may enjoy the same as thy sweet blessing and benefit, that so this dull and wearied body of mine, being refreshed with moderate sleep and rest, I may be the better enabled to walk before thee, doing all such good works as thou hast appointed, when it shall Please thee of thy Divine goodnesse, to waken me the next Morning: More especially, I beseech thee, to prepare me for thy Service to Morrow; it is thine Holy day, O Lord, prepare me for the Sanctifying of the same, that I may not spend it in my own Lusts and pleasures; but that my chief delight may be to Consecrate it to thy Glory and Honour, and that ceasing from the works of sin, as well as from the works of my ordinary Calling, I may may through thy Blessing, feel in my heart, the beginning of that Eternal Sabbath, which in unspeakable Joy and Glory I shall celebrate with the Saints and Angels, to thy Praise and Glory, in thy Heavenly Kingdom for Evermore.

Keep my heart, O Lord, in thy fear, and guide all the course of my life by thy Favour, and prepare me against the hour of Death and Dissolution, that if thou shouldest this night make my Bed in the dark, and turn my sleep into Death, I may Live and Die unto thee, who livest Everlastingly: these Graces, and all other Blessings which thou O Father, knowest to be requisite and necessary for me, I humbly beg, and crave at thy Hands, in the Name and Mediation of Jesus Christ thy Son, in that form of Prayer which he himself hath Taught me, saying.

A Prayer for a Family for Sunday Morning.

Lord teach us to Pray, that we may call upon thy Name: Prepare our hearts to seek, and open thou thy ears Mercifully to hear us. O Eternal and Everliving Lord God, Creator and continual Preserver of all things, both in Heaven and in Earth, by whose gracious Providence, as we were at the first wonderfully and fearfully Made; so we are no less preserved and kept unto this present: We the Workmanship of thy own hands, desire to humble both Soul and Body before thee. And now, O Lord, we being here in thy Presence, cannot but acknowledg and confess against our selves, our own unworthiness to come before thee to call upon thee, or to perform even the least Duty that shall concern thy Worship and Glory. Our hearts alas, are no better then the sink of sin, and a mass of all Pollution, and uncleanness. Wherefore O dear God, most meek and Merciful Father, we poor Wretches, heartily beseech thee, to be Gracious unto us, for Jesus Christ thy Sons sake, for his Death sake, for thy Promise, Truth, and Mercies sake, have Mercy upon us; Pardon us and Forgive us all our Sins, Iniquities, and Trespasses, whatsoever we have committed against thee, in thought, Word, or Deed, Ever, or at any time hitherto, by any meanes. Dear Father have mercy upon us, though we be poor, yet our Christ is Rich, though we be sinners, he is Righteous; though we be impure, yet he is Pure and Holy; for his sake therefore
 C. 4. sence,

therefore, O Lord, have mercy upon us, and Write thy Law in our Hearts; engrave it in our Minds, we heartily beseech thee. And let us this Morning of thy Holy Day, wholly turn unto thee, with all our Hearts, Minds, Thoughts, Deeds, and Meditations, that we may joyn in Praises to thy holy Name, for thy preservation of us the night past, and refreshing us with sweet sleep; and let us declare thy loving kindness in the Morning, on thy Holy and Blessed Sabbath-Day; for it is thy Will and Commandement that we should Sanctifie this thy Day unto thy Service, and in Praise unto thee, and offer up unto thee a morning Sacrifice of Praises, and Thanksgiving, and to hear what thy Spirit, by the preaching of thy Word, shall speak unto us thy Servants: O let not our sins stand as a cloud to stop our Prayers from Ascending up unto thee, or to keep back thy Grace from Descending, by thy Word, into our hearts, that we may cease from the works of sin, as well as from the works of our ordinary calling; and that we may feel in our hearts the beginning of that Eternal Sabbath, which brings unspeakable Joy and Glory, and filling us with the Spirit of Prayer, make us diligent and ready in the performance of thy will. And take us, O Lord, into thy custody and governance for ever, both our Souls and Bodies, yea our Lives, and all that ever we have, so that our Lives may please thee, and our Deaths may praise thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord: for whose sake we heartily Pray thee to grant these things thus asked, and all other things necessary for soul and body, and that not only to us, but to all others also, for whom thou wouldest we should pray, Grant unto us all true & hearty Repentance, that we may turn from our evil ways, that thou thou mayest turn from us the evils that we have so highly deserved.

And with us, O Lord, bless thy whole Church, especially that part of it in these Kingdomes; Be Gracious to thy servant and our Sovereign Lord King Charles, Bless him in his Government, and in his Royal Relations, our Gracious Queen Katherine, James Duke of York, and all the Royal Family, bless the Nobility, Clergy, Magistracy, Gentry, and the whole People of this Land: be merciful to all our Kindsfolks, and Families, Neighbours; and to all such as are any other way Related to us; and we beseech thee to grant us all thy Blessings, and thy holy Spirit to sanctifie us, and to keep us this day and for Evermore from all Evil, to thy Eternal Glory, and our everlasting comfort, through Jesus Christ, our Lord and only Saviour: in whose Blessed Name and Words, we further Pray, Our Father, &c.

A Prayer for a Family for Sunday Evening.

O Eternal God, our most loving and merciful Father in Jesus Christ, it is thine own commandment, that we should call upon thy name, and it is thy gracious and merciful promise, that where two or three are gathered together in thy name, there thou wilt be present among them; we thy poor and unworthy servants, Dust and Ashes, yet the Workmanship of thine own Hand, are more bold to come before thee, to offer unto thee this Evening sacrifice of Prayer, and Thanksgiving: O Lord, we beseech thee, to sanctifie unto us thy word which we have heard, and read this day; make it the seed of life unto our souls, that it may fructifie, grow, and increase, and

get such strength by thy good providence, that neither the burning heat of affliction, or persecution, cause it to wither, but that as seed sown in good ground, it may bring forth thirty, sixty, and a hundred fold, as thy heavenly wisdom hath appointed. And now, O Lord, being here before thee, we cannot but acknowledg, and confess, ever from the bottom of our Hearts; against our selves, our own Unworthiness, that we are greivous sinners, Conceived in sin, and born in iniquity, whereof we have brought forth most vile fruits in our lives to the great dishonour, of thy Name the utter dismayng of our own Consciences, and the evil example of our Brethren, by which we have deserved likewise thy wrath and heavy indignation, to be poured upon us, both in this life, and that which is to come, in such sort that no creature in heaven, or earth, is able to reconcile us again to thy Majesty,

Majesty, but only thy Son Jesus Christ; we intreat thee therefore O Lord, to be merciful unto us; and as we acknowledg our sins unto thee, so be thou faithful, and just, to forgive us our sins, and cleanse us from all unrighteousness; wash us thorowly from our wickedness, and cleanse us from our sins; for we acknowledg, O Lord, against thee we have sinned, and done evil in thy sight: To thee therefore, O Lord, do we come to crave the pardon of our sins, both for the guilt and punishment of the same, that so they may not draw down upon us our deserved Judgment; And good Lord we pray thee, accept of our Thanksgiving unto thy Majesty, for all thy mercies, and blessings, from time to time bestowed upon us; for this life, and for a better; we praise thee for our Election, Vocation, Justification, Sanctification, & continual Preservation, and the assurance thou hast given us of a better Life when this is ended; as also for all temporal blessings health, peace and prosperity; for thy goodness extended toward us; for this day past, that thou hast gon in, and out, before us, and freed us from many dangers of soul and body, and hast brought us with peace and comfort, to the beginning of this night; Lord Watch over us, by thy Spirit, and Presence; give us a holy and sanctified use of our rest and sleep, and fit us for the Duties of the next day; especially, O Lord fit us for that day, which shall never give place to night. And grant unto us all good things, that thou in thy Wisdome knowest more expedient to give, than we to ask; and all we beg for Jesus Christ His sake, in whose Name, and Words, we conclude these our imperfect Prayers, saying, as he hath taught us. Our Father, &c.

A Prayer for a Family, for Monday Morning.

MOst Merciful and Gracious Lord God, we do not present our selves here before thy Majesty, trusting in our own merits, or worthiness, but in thy manifold Mercies; which hast Promised, to hear our Prayers and grant our Requests, which we shall make unto thee, in the Name of thy Dear Son Jesus Christ our Lord; who hath also commanded us to assemble our selves together in his Name, with full assurance, that He will not only be amongst us, but also be our Mediator and Advocate toward thy Majesty, that we may obtain all things, which shall seem expedient to thy blessed Will, for our necessities: Therefore we beseech thee (most Merciful Father) to turn thy loving loving Countenance toward us, and impute not unto us our manifold sins and offences, whereby we justly deserve thy Wrath, and sharp punishment, but rather, receive us to thy Mercy for Jesus Christ his sake, accepting his Death and Passion, as a just recompence for all our offences, in whom only thou art Pleased, and through whom thou canst not be offended with us. And seeing that of thy great Mercy, we have quietly passed this night, Grant O Heavenly Father, that we may bestow this day wholly in thy Service, so that all our thoughts, words, and deeds, may redound to the Glory of thy Name, and good examples to all men, who seeing our good works, may Glorifie thee, our Heavenly Father. And because thou hast commanded us, to pray one for another, we do not only make request O Lord for our selves, and them that thou hast already called, for the true understanding of thine heavenly Will; but for all People and Nations of the World, who as they know by thy wonderful Works, that thou art God over all; so they may be instructed, by thine own Spirit, to believe in their only Saviour and Redeemer. And the Lord be merciful to us, and let not our sins, and wickedness, be a hinderance to thy Mercy: We are now come before thee, to bewail our sins, and miscarriages, heartily desiring thee, to cause us to turn unto thee, to seek and love thee; that our hearts may cleave fast unto thee, diligently following thee, all the residue of our days; and that thou wilt be pleased, to guide us with thy holy Spirit, that we may make Conscience of all that we do; never accounting any sin little, because thy Son died for the least: Remove from our minds all Ignorance, and Blindness; making thy Word unto us, as a Lantern unto our feet, to guide our paths, paths, that we may find Christ our Saviour, and Redeemer;

and by his rule, be so directed, that all ignorance in the Mysteries of our calling, be done away, and that we may learn thereby how to live: and further, good Lord, settle every one of us in such a constant course of obedience to thee, that we may serve thee, as thy own Children ought to serve thee, and not as the World, the flesh, and the Devil will have us; Suffer us not, O Lord, to set our hearts upon things below, but having Food, and Rayment, let us be therewith content; and be thankful unto thy Heavenly Majesty, that thou O Lord, our God, mayst prosper all our labours and handy-Works.
These and all other blessings, we beg of thee, in the Name of Jesus Christ, our blessed Lord and Saviour; in whose blessed Name and Words, we further Pray,

A Prayer for a Family for Munday Evening.

O Lord God Almighty, and our Heavenly Father, who art Everlasting and full of Pity, we acknowledg and confess, that we are not Worthy to lift up our Eyes unto Heaven, much less to present our selves before thy Majesty, with confidence that thou wilt hear our Prayers, and grant our requests, if we consider our own deservings; For our Consciences accuse us, and our Sins do Witness against us; we know that thou art an upright Judge, which doth not justify sinners, and wicked Men, but punishest the Faults of all such as break thy Commandements; yet most Merciful Father, since it hath pleased thee to Command us to call on thee in all our Troubles and Adversities, versities, promising even then to help us, when we feel our selves as it were Swallowed up of Death, and Desparation; we utterly renounce all worldly confidence, and fly to thy Sovereign Bounty as our only stay and refuge; beseeching thee not to call to Remembrance our manifold Sins and Wickedness, whereby we continually provoke thy Wrath and Indignation against us. Neither do thou lay to our charge our negligence, nor our unthankfulness, that we have not worthily esteemed, nor in our lives sufficiently exprest the sweet comfort of the Gospel, revealed unto us: But do thou rather Accept the obedience and Death of thy Son Jesus Christ, who by offering up himself, a Sacrifice once for all, hath made a sufficient recompence for all our sins. Have mercy therefore upon us, O Lord, and forgive us our offences. Teach us by thine holy Spirit that we may rightly weigh weigh them; and earnestly Repent for the same, and so much the rather, O Lord, because that Reprobates, and such as thou hast forsaken, cannot praise thee, nor call upon thy Name; but the repenting Heart, the sorrowful Mind, the Conscience Oppressed, Hungring and Thirsting for thy Grace, shall ever set forth thy Praise and Glory. And now O Lord, though we are but Dust and Worms, yet thou art our Creator, and we are the work of thine Hands; yea, thou art our Father, and we are thy Children; thou art our Shepheard, and we are thy Flock; thou art our Redeemer, and we are thy People, whom thou hast bought; thou art our God, and we are thine Inheritance. Correct us not therefore in thine Anger, O Lord, neither according to our deserts punish us, but mercifully Chastise us, with a Fatherly affection, that all the World may know, that if a sinner repent him of his sins, from the bottom of his Heart, thou wilt put away his wickedness out of thy Remembrance, as thou hast promised by thy holy Prophets. And for as much as it hath pleased thee, to make the Night for Man to rest in, as thou hast Ordained him the day to travel in; Grant dear Father, that we may so take our bodily rest, that our Soul may continually watch for the time that our Lord Jesus Christ shall appear, for our deliverance, out of this mortal life; and grant that we be not overcome this Night, by any Fancies, Dreams, or other Temptations; but that we may fully, set our mind upon thee, love thee, fear thee, and rest in thee; and let not our sleep be excessive, or overmuch, after the insatiable desires of our flesh, but only sufficient to content our weak Nature, that we may be the better disposed, to live in all Godly Conversation, to the Glory of thy holy Name, and the profit of our brethren, hrent, through Jesus our Lord: in whose Name we pray, as he hath taught us, saying,

A Prayer for a Family for Tuesday Morning.

Most Mighty and most glorious Lord God, who art of infinite Mercy, who sittest upon thy Throne above Heaven, and Earth, are full of thy Glory; we that are but Dust and Ashes, unprofitable Servants, presume to present our selves before thee, this morning, and beg such things as we have need of from thy Divine Majesty; we have tasted of thy Favors this night past, and for ever since we awaked, we have tasted of thy Goodness. Thou thoughtest of Saving us, before we began to serve thee; thou hadst an eye upon us, when we were yet unborn; and notwithstanding notwithstanding our unworthiness, thou still receivest us; thou givest us our dayly Bread, and hourly Breath, thou continuest, and we hope wilt comfort us, in Death, and wilt Crown us with Life in the World to come: Why shouldst thou be so careful of us, since we are so careless of thee; surely O Lord, in that thou affordest us health to our bodyes, liberty to our persons, prosperity to this Family, in which we live, we can give no reason, but because thou art Merciful. The Heavens are within a Spain, the Earth within a Circle, the Waters within thy fist, mountains upon the ballance; but what number, or measure, or bounds can we set to thy Goodness and Mercy O God?

O let the Ocean of this thy Mercy, be a Partition between us and our sins, betwixt thee, and thy Judgments! who can bring a clean thing, out of an unclean, but thou alone who justifiest the ungodly,

and quickenest the dead in sin? Remove therefore from us, O Lord, whatsoever there is in us, that displeaseth thee, for thine Eyes do behold our manifold imperfections; send thy Hand of Mercy, we pray thee upon us, and take away from us, whatsoever there is within us, which doth offend the Eyes of thy Goodness. And as thou hast in great Mercy, kept us this Night past, from all Perils and Dangers of the same, so we beseech thee, keep us this day that the Son of Righteousness, may Rule in our Hearts, and that all the darkness that lurketh in them, may be scattered, to the comfort of our souls; and that we may walk in the light, as thy Children, without danger of stumbling. Prosper, O Lord, our labours, and the works of our hands, and grant that we may grow in Grace, all our days, until we come to Live, and Reign with thee, in thy Heavenly Kingdome. And together with us,

Bless our Gracious King, defend his Person, uphold his Crown, maintain his Government; bless our gracious Q. Katharine, James Duke of York, and all the Royal Family: bless the Nobility, Magistrates, Bishops, and Ministers: and let thy blessing be upon all of us, in this household, guide us in our wayes, and lead us into thy Truth. Bless all our Friends, and Kindred, all that are in any Affliction, or Tribulation. And do for them, and us, whatsoever thou knowest necessary for us, for the Sake of Jesus Christ, our only Saviour, and Redeemer, in whose Name, and Words, we beseech thee, saying,

HOly, and Glorious Lord God, what shall we render unto thee, for all thy Benefits? because thou hast inclined thine Ear unto us, therefore will we call upon thee, as long as we live, from the rising of the Sun, to the going down of the same, let thy Name be praised; among the infinite Riches of thy Mercies toward us we render thee abundant of praise and thanks, for thy merciful preservation of us this day, as well as all the times and days of our lives, that thou hast bestowed upon us so many excellent blessings and mercys, both Spiritual, and corporal, contrary to our deservings: All these thy mercys call upon us, that we should be thankful to thee for them;

them; and all our miseries, call upon us, that we should call upon thee for the continuance of thy mercies: Cleanse our Souls therefore, we beseech thee, O Lord, from whatsoever is offensive to thee, and hurtful to us, and give us what is necessary for us. And now, O Lord, Watch over us this night, give us comfortable and sweet sleep, fit us for all services of the day following; make our souls to watch for the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ; let our beds put us in mind of our Graves; and our rising from thence, of our last Resurrection; so that whether we wake, or sleep, we being thine, may wait for thee; O Heavenly Father, so form these hearts of ours, that we may ever delight to live, according to thy Will and Ordinance, in Holiness, and Righteousness before thee, all the days of our lives; O Lord let us consider, the time will come, when the Trumpet shall and will sound; the dead shall Rise, and we, even we, all and every one of us, shall assuredly stand before thy Judgment Seat, with open, and unfolded Consciences, there to give an account of all our deeds whatsoever; at which time, all such as have believed in Christ, and truly served thee in this life, shall to their endless, and unspeakable joy, hear that comfortable saying of thine, Come ye blessed of my Father, Receive the Kingdome prepared for you, before the beginning of the World: but woe to all that live wicked & sinful lives in that day; they shall drink of the Wine of the Wrath of God, and shall be Tormented in Fire and Brimstone for Evermore. O Dear God, and gracious Father, keep us from this condition, and knit our hearts fast unto thee, and cause us now, while we have time, with the help of thy Grace, not only to think rightly of these things, but so to walk before thee, in this present life, life, as becometh thy people, and Children; O continue the Word of Truth evermore amongst us, to comfort us, and let the seed thereof take such fast root in our hearts, that it may fructifie and bring forth fruit, to thy Glory, and our own good and comfort, that we may be the more enabled thereby, to walk in they fear, in the midst of a wicked, and perverse Generation. Shower down thy blessings upon the Head and Heart of our gracious King and Queen, and upon all the Roval Family, Bless O Lord the Ministers, Judges, and Magistrates of this Land. Bless all the people of all degrees, and kinds; Let thy blessing be upon our Relations, Kindred, and Friends; and upon all others, whom we are bound to pray for, in any affliction, pain, trouble, sickness, or any other distemper whatsoever. Bless them all, and bless us, and ours, and do more for us, then we can expresse unto thee,

A Prayer for a Family for Wednesday Morning.

MOst gracious Lord God, and holy Father, thine eyes are more pure than the Son, and cannot behold any thing that is unclean; the Cherubins, and Seraphins, cover their faces before thy glorious Majesty; the heaven of heavens are not clean in thy sight; How then shall earth, sinful earth, dust, and ashes, appear before thee? we presume not, O Lord, to come before thy Tribunal, to plead for our righteousness, for all our righteousness is as filthy rags; but we prostrate our selves, with all humility of body, and soul, at thy

Katharine*, James Duke of York, and the rest of the Royal Family; Bless we beseech thee, the Lords of his Majestys most Honourable Privy Council; the Nobles, Judges, Ministers and Magistrates of this Realm. Be thou a Father to the Fatherless, a Comforter to the Comfortless; a Deliverer to the Captives, & a Physitian to the Sick; Grant that the Sickness of their Bodies, may be for the good of their souls. *A Prayer for a Family for Wed-

Most Glorious Lord God, whose dwelling is in the highest heavens. And yet beholdest the lowly and the humble upon earth; we blush and are ashamed to lift up our eyes unto heaven, because we have sinned against thee, which dwellest in the heavens; But look down we beseech thee, from heaven thy dwelling place, and behold the humility of thy servants here on earth, which prostrate themselves at the foot-stool of thy mercy, confessing their own guilti-ness, begging pardon for our sins;

we confess, O Almighty Creator, that thou madest us at the first, after thine own Images ; thou clothedst us with Innocency, as with a Garment ; thou seatest us in Paradise ; a place of all delight and Pleasure ; But we have defaced thine Image, we have cast off our first Covering ; we have thrust ourselves out of that pleasant place ; we ran away from thee, and were not obedient to thy Voice. And we do still shut our Eyes, O Lord, that we might not see, and we have refused to be ruled by thy Law. The law of sin in our flesh, doth daily captivate us ; The root of sin, which lyeth hidden in us, doth every day put forth new branches ; all the parts, and faculties, of our bodies, and souls, are as so many Instruments of unrighteousness, to fight against thy Divine Majesty. Our hearts imagine wicked things, our mouths utter them, and our hands put them in practise ; Thy Mercys

Mercys are every day renewed unto us, and our sins are every day multiplied against thee; in the day of health, and prosperity, we forget thee, and we never think upon thee, in the day of sickness, and adversity; Thy benefits heaped upon us, do not allure us to obey thee; neither do thy Judgments inflicted upon others, make us afraid to offend thee; what couldst thou have done, O Lord, more for us? or, what could we have done more against thee? Thou didst send thy Son, in the fulness of time, to take our nature upon him, to fulfil thy Law for us, and to be Crucified for our sins; but we have not followed the example of his Holy Life, but have every day afresh, Crucified him by our sins; and now O Lord, if we should become our own Judges, we cannot but confess, that, we have deserved everlasting torments in Hell fire; but there is mercy with thee, O Lord, therefore fore will we not despair; our sins are many in number, but thy mercys are without number; the weight of our sins is great, but the weight of thy Sons Cross was greater; our sins press us down to hell, but thy mercy in Christ Jesus, raiseth us up; by Satan we are accused, but by Jesus Christ we are defended; By our own Consciences, we are condemned, but by Jesus Christ, we are absolved and pardoned; in us there is nothing but Sin, Death, and Damnation; in him there is treasured up for us, Righteousness, Life and Salvation; we are poor, Christ is our Riches; we are naked, he is our covering; We are exposed to thy fury pursuing of us, he is the buckler of our defence, and our refuge; he is the Rock of our Salvation, and in him do we trust; Guide us, O Lord, by thy holy Spirit, to amend what is amiss in us, increase all gifts and graces, which thou hast already given

A Prayer for a Family for Thursday Morning.

GLorious Lord God, and in Jesus Christ our merciful and loving Father, we thine unworthy creatures, sinful dust and ashes, are here in all humility of souls and bodies, prostrate as the lowest footstool of thy glorious Majesty: beseeching thee, to bow down thine ears unto our prayers, & to open thine eyes to our Supplications, who from the very bottom of our hearts, do acknowledg and confess, that we have been unprofitable servants, prodigal Children, and bad stewards of that time which thou hast afforded us for repentance, and good works, and of those talents, which thou hast committed to our improvement; we are Children of rebellious and disobedient parents, our hearts are cages of uncleane birds, of noisome lusts, and the thoughts thereof have been evil, and only evil, and that continually: And if we look, O Lord unto the actions of our lives, there are few sins we have not committed, no Commandement which we have not broken; These eyes, which now look up unto heaven, have beheld vanity; these tongues which now call upon thee, have dishonoured thee; and these hands, which we now lift up unto thee, have been many times lifted up against thee, and thy statutes; so that we have made our selves unworthy of the least of thy mercies, but worthy of the greatest of thy Judgments; but deal not with us, after our sins, neither reward us according to our iniquities: Spare us O Lord, Spare thy people, whom thou hast created after thine own Image, and redeemed with thy own blood; And according to the multitude of thy tender tender compassions, which have ever been of old to us, blot out the multitude of our transgressions, pardon our sins, and receive us again into thy favour, for his sake, and Suffering, who hath Satisfied thy Justice to the utmost farthing: And for the short residue, and remainder of our days, give us grace O Lord, to consecrate the remainder of them, to thy service, to redeem that time, which we cannot recall, and to make our calling and election sure, before we go home and be seen no more; And because the corruption of our nature, are too many, and too strong for us, and the Devil, like a roaring Lyon, goes about continually to devour us; leave us not to our selves, but assist us by thy grace; perfect thy strength in our weakness, and preserve both our bodies and souls blameless, and spotless, that when we shall have finished our course, and run the race of our natural Pilgrimage

grimage, we may receive that crown of righteousness, which thou the righteous, and just Judge, hast laid up for all them that love, and expect the day of thy appearing; And together with us, we intreat thee, for a blessing upon our King, Queen, Duke, and the rest of the Royal Family; upon our Counsellours, Ministers, and Magistrates; upon our friends, Kindred, and acquaintance, upon the whole Church, and every afflicted member of it; Except of our Morning sacrifice of praise, and thanksgiving, for all the mercies and favours, comforts and deliverances, which from time to time thou hast afforded and continued to us, we thank thee for thy last mercy, in preserving us, from the dangers of this night past, for refreshing our bodies with seasonable rest, and bringing us safe to the beginning of this day: Lord, what is man, that thou art so mindful of him, and the son son of man, that thou shouldest thus visit, and remember him? give us grace, O Lord, to remember thee, and to be mindful of thy mercies, that we may praise thee for all thee truth, and faithfulness, which thou shewest to us in the land of the living; that as thou hast brought us to the comforts of this day, so thou mayst go along with us, in the same, to enable us for the Duties, of those callings wherein we are placed, and to deliver us from those dangers to which we are exposed, ever for Jesus-Christ his sake: in whose most blessed name and words, we conclude these our weak and imperfect prayers, saying as he himself hath taught us, in his holy Gospel. Our Father, &c.

A Prayer for a Family for Thursday Evening.

O Eternal God, and most merciful Father, in Jesus Christ, in whom thou hast made a Covenant of Grace and Mercy with all those that come unto thee in him; in his Name and Mediation, we humbly prostrate our selves before the throne of thy mercy-seat, acknowledging that by the breach of all thy holy Laws and Commandments, we are become wild Olive Branches, strangers to thy Covenant of Grace; we have defaced in our selves, thy sacred Image, imprinted in us by Creation; we have sinned against Heaven, and before thee, and are no more worthy to be called thy children: O admit us into the place of hired servants! Lord, thou hast formed us in our Mothers

Mothers Wombs, thy Providence hath hitherto watched over us, and preserved us, to this present time; O stay not the course of thy Mercies and loving kindness toward us; Have mercy upon us, O Lord, for thy dear Son Jesus Christ his sake, who is the way, the truth, and the Life; In him, O Lord, we appeal from thy Justice, to thy Mercy, beseeching thee in his Name, and for his sake only, that thou wilt be graciously pleased freely to pardon us all our sins, and disobedience, whether in thought, word, or deed, committed against thy divine Majesty, and in his precious Blood-shedding Death, and perfect obedience, free us from all the guilt, the stain, the punishment, and dominion of all our sins, and cloth us with his perfect Righteousness; there is mercy with thee, O Lord, that thou mayest be feared; yea thy mercyes swallow up the greatness of our sins; speak peace to our souls and consciences, make us happy, in the free Remission of all our sins, and be reconciled to thy poor servants in Jesus Christ, in whom thou art well pleased. Suffer not the works of thine own Hands to Perish, thou art not delighted in the death of sinners, but in their Conversion; turn our hearts, and we shall be turned; convert us, and we shall be converted: Illuminate the eyes of our minds, and understandings; with the bright beams of thy holy Spirit, that we may daily grow in the saving knowledg of the heavenly mystery of our Redemption, wrought by our dear Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; sanctifie our wills and affections, by the same Spirit, the most sacred fountain of all grace and goodness; reduce them to the obedience of thy most holy will, in the practise of all piety toward thee, and charity toward all men. And with us, be gracious to thy whole Church, bless thy servant Charles, our gracious King and Governour; bless our gracious Queen, James Duke of York, and all the Royal Family: bless the Nobility, the Magistracy, and Ministry of this land, of what quality, or degree soever. Be merciful to all, that are under any affliction, or tryal whatsoever; be a Father to the fatherless, a husband to the Widdow, and a Comforter to the Comfortless, in what streight or necessity soever they are: support them, and bring them out of it, to thy Glory, and their comfort. Be merciful to all that we are bound to pray for; bless our Relations, Kindred and Friends, and let them serve thee, and live to thy Glory. And now we desire to return all humble and hearty thanks, to thy heavenly Majesty, for all thy blessings, continually showed down upon us; In Creating us, and Preserving us to this day; in keeping us the day past, from all dangers, and casualties; that we are continually continually subject to : Continue, O Lord, we beseech thee, this favour to us, and let thy Angels pitch their Tents round about us, this night, to guard and defend us from all perils both of soul and body ; let our weak, and wearied bodies, be refreshed with seasonable, and convenient rest and sleep, that so we may be the more fit to discharge our duties, both toward God, and man, the day following ; Grant these our weak Petitions, and give us all other blessings that thou knowest we stand in need of, and all we ask of thee, in the blessed Name and Words, of our dear Saviour, and Redeemer, further Praying.

A Prayer for a Family, for Friday Morning.

MOst Holy, most Glorious, and Eternal Lord God; we thy poor, and unworthy servants, in all humility of soul and body, and unfeigned acknowledgment of our duty, prostrate our selves before the Throne of thy Mercy, praising and magnifying thy fatherly goodness, for the abundance of thy blessings, and for the multitude of thy mercies, heaped upon us; beseeching thee for Christ his sake, to be merciful to all our sins committed against thy divine Majesty; upon the consideration of which, we confess we are not worthy to appear in thy presence, much less to ask a Blessing at thy hands; for, by reason of our corrupt nature in us, derived from our first Parents, our inclina-inclinations have been prone to commit all manner of sin and wickedness against thy goodness: thy laws and precepts we have broken, both in thought, word, and deed; out of our hearts proceed evil, and wicked imaginations which defile the soul, and the whole man is altogether abominable: these things, O Lord, we confess, to our shame; and if thy mercy prevent not, it will be our utter destruction of soul and body. Yet O Lord, thou art our Creator, thou hast made us, and thou hast sent thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, to die for us; and thy holy Spirit to sanctifie us; and many are the benefits and blessings which thou hast bestowed upon us, and which by thy goodness we enjoy, both of soul and body; and therefore by the testimony of our own consciences, we stand convicted; and the thoughts of our great sins, and transgressions, do much astonish us; what shall we say therefore, or wherein shall we open our mouths? who shall deliver us from the misery due unto us, for our transgressions? nothing can be expected in this life, but mercy, and confusion; and in the world to come, eternal condemnation: But yet, O Lord, in obedience to thy command, and in confident assurance of thy endless, and unspeakable mercy promised in Jesus Christ to all sinners which come unto thee, with sorrow in our hearts, shame in our faces, and in all humility of Spirit. And we would appeal from thee, a just Judge, to thee a merciful Father, from the throne of thy Justice, to the seat of thy Mercy, beseeching thee, O Lord, to have mercy upon us, and to turn away thy face, from all our sins, and to blot out all our transgressions, for the only Meritorious Death and Passion of Jesus Christ, who so abundantly shed his Blood on the Cross, to take away the sin of

of the World: and be pleased now to reform our affections, transform us out of sin, into the glorious liberty of thy own children, to live in newness of life, in a holy conversation, and continual obedience to thy divine Majesty.

And now we further intreat thee, O Lord, for a blessing upon thy Church Universal, more especially we beseech thee, to continue the peace and prosperity of these Churches wherein we live, and every member thereof; and in a more especial manner, bless with the cheifest of thy blessings, thine Annointed, and our Sovereign Lord King Charles, the Queens Majesty, James Duke of York; and the rest of the Royal Family; bless the Lords of his Majesties most honourable priyy Council, the Reverend Clergy, and all civil Magistrates; bless all our kindred, friends, and acquaintance; bless all, O Lord, from the highest to the lowest.

And since it hath pleased thee, O Lord, of thy Goodness, to deliver us from the power of darkness, and all dangers of the night past, affording us quiet and comfortable rest, bring us safe to the beginning of this day; our souls, and all that is within us, shall praise thy holy Name; We beseech thee to bless and defend us, O Lord, this day; direct, and protect us in it; bless our going out, and coming in; let thy Spirit guide us in all our actions; prosper all our labours, and endeavours this day; make us diligent and dutiful in our Callings, that we may keep a good Conscience in all our dealings, not any way to defraud any one, knowing, that one day we must give an account of all our words and deeds.

Lord hear us we beseech thee, and accept of this our morning Sacrifice, of praise, and thanksgivings; hear our prayers, and grant our petitions.

titions that we have asked; and all other blessings which thou in thy infinite wisdom knowest most necessary for us, we ask at thy merciful hands in the Name, and through the mediation of thy dear Son, our blessed Redeemer, Jesus Christ, our Lord; in whose most excellent form of Prayer, we conclude our imperfect Petitions; saying,

A Prayer for a Family for Fryday Evening.

Most glorious, and everlasting Lord God, which inhabitest eternity, and dwellest in that light which no mortal eye can attain unto; the God in whom we live, and move, and have our being, we thine unworthy servants, do here in all lowliness, and humility, present our persons, and Prayers, before

thy divine Majesty ; confessing, and acknowledging, that we were conceived in sins and brought forth in iniquity ; and as if that had been but a small matter, we have heaped up our Actuall transgressions, as the sand upon the sea-shore, and as the stars in the firmament, for number : we have broken thy Commandments, we have prophaned thy Sabbaths, we have dishonour thy name, we have abused thy creatures, we have neglected the day of our Visitation, and turned thy grace into wantonness, whereby we have most justly provoked thy wrath, and everlasting displeasure ; we have wounded our own consciences, weakned our assurance of salvation, and greived thy good Spirit, which sealeth us up unto the day of our redemption ; And now, O Lord, if thou shouldst deal with us after our deservings, thou mightest pour upon us, the deluge of thy wrath, and fury, to sweep us out of the land land of the living, into that place of torment prepared for the Devil, and his Angels. But thou hast revealed thy self to the sons of men, to be the Lord, the Lord Merciful and Gracious, Long-suffering, and of great Goodness, who pardonest Sinnes, and passest by the transgressions of thy people; this is thy Name for ever, and thy Memorial throughout all generations; we beseech therefore, for Jesus Christ his sake, to be merciful unto us, in the free pardon and forgiveness of all our sins that we have ever committed against thee; Accept of his obedience, for our disobedience; of his righteousness, for our unrighteousness; of his Sufferings, for all our sins; wash them away in his blood, nail them to his cross, hide them in his wounds, and bury them in his grave, that they may never rise up for our confusion here, or for our condemnation hereafter; O Lord, be unto us a Father

Father of Mercy, and a God of Consolation; Speak peace unto our souls and consciences, and say unto us, that thou art the God of our salvation.

And give us grace, for the time to come, to dye daily unto sin, by vertue of thy sons death, and to rise up to newness of life, by the power of his resurrection, wean our hearts, and take off our affections, from the things of this world, which endure but for a season, and raise them up unto those things which are at thy right hand for evermore; enlighten the darkness of our understandings, subdue the stubbornness of our wills, rectify the disorder of our affections, and bring in-to obedience, whatsoever exalteth it self, against thy will, that at last we may become such, as thou would'st have us to be.

Continue, and enlarge thy blessings upon the Church and Land wherein we live; upon the person and

and government of our King, bless all the Royal Family; together with his Majesties counsell; the Nobility; Magistracy, Clergy, and Gentry of the land; Be merciful to all those who are afflicted with any cross or calamity, all our relations and acquaintance, and all others whom we are bound to pray for. O Lord accept our Thanksgiving this Evening, for all the mercys and favours which thou hast afforded for our souls or bodies, for this life, or a better; more especially, that thou hast preserved us, and our Family this day, in health and happiness; Now holy Father, seeing the night is upon us, and we are ready to take our rest, in thy hands we commit our souls, and bodies, and all that we have, beseeching thee, who art the keeper of Israel, that neither sleepest, nor slumberest, to take care of us; for if thou protect us not, Satan will devour us; yea, we shall sleep a perpetual perpetual sleep, and never arise up to praise thee; we praise thee therefore, be good to us this night, defend us from danger, refresh us with comfortable rest, and raise us up to glorify thee in the duties of the day following, that thou mayst still be our God, and we may be thy people; hear us, and graciously answer us in these our requests, and what else thou knowest needful and expedient for us, and that for Jesus Christ his sake, in whose most blessed name, and words, we conclude these our imperfect Prayers, saying, as he himself hath taughts us,

Our Father, &c.

A Prayer for a Family for Saturday Morning.

GRACIOUS Lord God, thou art the great Creator of Heaven and Earth, we confess our selves unworthy to come into thy presence, or to speak a word before thee, wretched sinful Creatures that we are, full of all iniquity and uncleanness; and who can make that clean which is taken out of an unclean thing? the thoughts and imaginations of our hearts are evil, and only evil, and that continually.

Yet, O Lord, seeing thou hast commanded us to call upon thee, and hast mercifully promised to be present with thy Children, to hear their prayers, and to grant their requests, which they put up in faith unto thee. O Lord, this doth give us boldness to come before thee,
and

and in confidence of thy goodness, that thou wilt make good the same promises unto us at this time, we here offer up unto thee this morning Sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving, humbly acknowledging and confessing, from the bottom of our hearts, our manifold transgressions and offences, which we have continually multiplied against thee, in thought, word, and deed, from the beginning of our dayes, unto this present time; we acknowledge, O Lord, our Original corruption, in the which we were at the first conceived, and born, and from which there hath sprung the most bitter, and unfavoury fruit of sin, apostacy, and Rebellion, to the great dishonour of thy Name, and wounding of our poor souls and consciences, and the evil example of others, amongst whom we have lived; by the which, O God, we confess that we have justly deserved that thy Wrath and indig-

indignation, should be poured out upon us, both in this life, and in the life to come.

And therefore, O God, we come not here before thee, in our own worthiness, but in the worthiness, and mediation of Jesus Christ, beseeching thy gracious goodness, for his sake, to forgive all our offences; our open sins, our secret sins, our sins of Presumption, sins against Knowledge, against Conscience, against thee, or against our Brethren, either in our younger years, or in the days of our knowledge; as we must needs confess, that in many things we offend all, we beseech thee, O Lord, for Christ his sake, to forgive the same unto us, and perswade our Souls and Consciences more and more, that thou art at peace with us, and that all our sins are done away in the blood of thy Son. And grant, O Lord, that by the assistance of thy Holy Spirit, we may serve thee with more freedom of mind, and liberty of will, in Righte-

Righteousness, and true Holiness, unto the end of our days. And, good Lord, begin not only repentance, and true conversion in us, but of thy great mercy, perfect the same: O lead us forward more and more to perfection; increase in us the saving knowledge of thee, and of thy Son Jesus Christ.

And now, O Lord, we magnify, and praise thy Holy Name, for thy Blessings and Mercies bestowed upon us, both Spiritual and Temporal; for our Health, Peace, Food, Rayment, and all the comforts of this life: O Lord let us make a right use of them, that we may not abuse them unto licentiousness, but let us be daily stirr'd up by them, to devote our selves unto thee, and thy service; we acknowledge thy goodness towards us, the night that is now past, freeing us from many imminent dangers, both of Soul and Body, and giving us sweet and comfortable rest, we beseech thee to be with us this day, and

and bless us in all our lawful undertakings, and keep us all the days of our lives, and teach us to walk, as Children of the light, that thy Name may be glorified by us, others may take good example, we our selves enjoy the peace of a good Conscience, so that at the last we may come to reign with thee in Glory.

Bless the Churches and Kingdoms wherein we live, with the continuance of our peace, and true Religion, bless all in Authority, especially the Kings most excellent Majesty, our gracious Queen, James Duke of York and all the Royal Family. Bless the Nobility, Clergy and Gentry of this Nation; bless us all out of Sion from the highest to the lowest. Be merciful to all that are afflicted in body or mind or both; let it please thee, O Lord, to stay them, and support them in time of their distress. and give them a happy issue out of the same; as it shall seem good unto thee; and fit us all for all times and conditions

tions which thou shalt please to bring upon us. And thus, O Lord, we have commended our suits unto thee, humbly beseeching thee to pardon our infirmities in the performance of this present service, and since thou knowest our wants better than we our selves can express them unto thee, we pray thee to take notice of them, and minister unto us a gracious supply in thine own due time, even for Jesus Christ his sake; in whose Name we conclude these our weak and imperfect Prayers in that perfect form of Prayer which he himself hath further taught us, saying,

Our Fa' b r, &c.

A Prayer for a Family for Saturday Evening.

HOly Lord God, and our Heavenly Father in Jesus Christ, we thine unworthy creatures now here before thee, cannot but acknowledge and confess, even from the bottom of our hearts against our selves, our own unworthiness, that we are grievous sinners, conceived in sin and born in iniquity, whereof we have brought forth most vile fruits in our lives, to the great dishonour of thy name, the utter dismaying of our own consciences, and the evil example of our brethren, by which we have deserved likewise thy wrath and heavy indignation to be poured upon us, both in this life and that which is to come. But yet, O Lord, we know that the merits of thy dear Son do far exceed our sins, though the multitude titude of them were as the sand upon the Sea-shore; in his name therefore and for his sake, we present our selves Souls and bodies before thy most heavenly Majesty, beseeching thee to forgive us all our sins and transgressions, and we do further desire to bless thy name and to shew forth thy praise this, Evening and to magnify thy goodness toward us for preserving us this day from all dangers, and for keeping us from our birth even hitherto, for thou art a God of patience, pity, and much forgiveness, shewing mercy unto thousands, and blotting out all our offences: O Lord, set not before us the sinfulness of our hearts and ways, so as to hinder good things from us, but grant us thy grace that we may amend our lives, and unfeignedly serve thee in the several duties of our callings, to thy glory, and the comfort of our Souls; remit our punishment, continue thy favour unto us, and receive us into thy most gracious protection, and keep keep us this night and for evermore, that the Devil may have no power over us, nor any evil overtake us; and, O Lord, whether we sleep or wake, live or dye, let us be always rhine, for thou art our Creator and Redeemer, guard us about with the Armies of thy holy Angels in our habitations, do thou, O God, assist us, that we may peaceably sleep and rest in thee; hide us in thy Tabernacle, and we will fear no evil, for thou that keepst us dost neither slumber nor sleep; let thy rod and thy staff comfort and defend us, and let thy mercies, O God, prevent and follow us all the days of our lives, that at last we may dwell with thee, praising thee for evermore: and to that end refresh our wearied weak bodies with moderate sleep, that if thou shalt let us live till the next day, even thy holy Sabbath day, we may be fit to perform all the services and duties thou requirest of us. Let us hear thy word with fear and reverence, and let us

lay it up in our hearts, that the fruits of it may be seen in our holy lives and conversations. Let us pray unto thee by faith, that so we may receive what we aske; and let us devote our whole Souls, minds and affections to thy service.

And with us be gracious to these Churches in this Kingdom, we beseech thee to put a stop to that Spirit of Atheism, Irreligion, and Profaneness that is come in upon us like a flood, and make us all an holy people, that so we may be a happy people. Let the choicest of thy blessings descend upon our gracious King and Queen, and all the Royal Family; bless all estates and conditions of men of what quality soever, the Nobility, Clergy, Gentry and Commonalty; bless all our friends, kindred and relations, be a father to the fatherless, a husband to the widdow, and a comfort to the comfortless. Be our God and guide in all our ways; lighten our darkness, we beseech thee, O Lord, and by thy great mercy, defend us from all Perils and dangers of this night; let thy mighty Hand, and Out-stretched Arm, O Lord, be still our defence. And hear us, and answer us above and beyond the desires of these our weak Petitions; In the blessed Name of Jesus Christ our only Lord and Saviour, in whose most holy Words, we further pray.

Papish Superstition & Tyranny -

The Return of the Gospel. ~

The Spanish Invasion in 1588: ~

Upon the return of the Gospel, and deliverance from Popish Idolatry and Tyranny in the time of Queen Elizabeth.

Darkness is fled, the Sun appears Extinguishing our flames and fears.
The Glorious Gospel's once more free
From Romish dark Idolatry:
We hear no dying Martyrs groan,
But Truth and mercy fill the Throne.
The Smith-field Fires do burn no more,
And England now does hate the Whore;
And all her Fallacies defies,
The King of Glory now doth rise
With healing underneath his wings,
And England her deliverance sings.
The Gospel now in Triumph flies,
Enlightning mens benighted eyes;
And all may now be safely good Without subscribing with their blood.
Lord grant we nere may sin away
The mercies of this Gospel day.

F 3 Amen

*The Persecution in the time of Q.

Papists in it, is thus described by the excellent Bp. Jewel.*

‘ ed them with rods, you have burnt ‘ their hands and arms with flaming ‘ torches, you have famished them, ‘ you have drowned them, you have ‘ summon’d them being dead to appear ‘ before you out of their graves, you ‘ have ript up their buried carkases, ‘ burnt them, and thrown them out ‘ upon dunghils, you took a poor babe ‘ falling from its mothers womb, and ‘ in a most cruel and inhumane man‘ ner threw it into the fire.

On the return of the Gospel 118

Mary amounted to the number of 277. persons of all sorts and ages, for there perished by these flames 5 Bishops, 21 Divines, 8 Gentlemen, 84 Artificers, 100 Husbandmen servants and labourers, 26 Wives, 20 Widows, 9 Virgins, 2 boys and 2 infants, one springing out of his mothers womb as she was burning at the stake, and most unmercifully flung it into the fire at the very birth, 64 more in those furious times were persecuted in their faith, whereof 7 were whipt, 16 perish'd in prison, 12 buried in dunghils, and many more lay in captivity condemned, who were happily delivered by the glorious entrance of Queen Elizabeth.

A Thanksgiving for the return of the Gospel, and our deliverance from Popish Superstition and Tyranny.

O Most glorious, most merciful and gracious Lord God, we cannot but remember thy mercies to us, and to our Fathers of old, when thou wast pleased to deliver this Nation from the spiritual Ægyptian bondage which we were under in the Mari days, when our Fathers were in the condition of those Worthies of old who were tortured, not accepting deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection, who wandred about in sheep-skins and goat-skins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented in deserts, in mountains, in dens and caves of the Earth, and the sound of the Turtle was not heard in the land, This, O Lord, was our miserable condition.

dition under that Romish Tyranny under which we groaned; but thou our most merciful Father in the midst of judgment didst remember mercy, and didst bring back our captivity, as the rivers in the South; thou broughtest thy servant Queen Elizabeth from prison to reign, and with her did the glorious Sun of thy Gospel arise upon these late dark lands, and the word of the Lord went throughout the Nation, thou quencheest those flames that destroyed so many of thy blessed Saints and servants, and didst at once restore to us religion, peace, plenty, and Victory over all our and thine enemies. O what shall we render unto the Lord for all these his great benefits to us a most unworthy, wicked and sinful people, let us render unto him the sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving, and let our lives and conversations so shew forth his praise, that we may never provoke the Lord to remove his candlestick from us, and once more to scourge us with the Papistry, and maintain thy true Religion that I and my people may praise thy holy name.

Upon the Spanish Invasion in that remarkable year 1588. intended to reduce this Nation to Popery and slavery by the (so called) invincible Armada.

Poor Englands ruin is design'd,
The Pope and Spain have both combin'd
Both have infallibly decreed
In Eighty Eight, England must bleed.
A vast Armada Spain prepares
The cost and toyl of many years,
An hundred fifty Sail and more Come thundring from the Spanish shoar,
The Pope to make up the bravado
Stiles it the invincible Armado;
Whose vast and numerous Hulls contain
The Treasure, and the strength of Spain.
Full twenty thousand Souldiers,
And to encrease our woes and fears Fetters and chains they did prepare,
The marks of slavery we must wear.
Religion, Laws and Liberties
All were designed a Sacrifice.

To

To Romish Tyranny, and we Most wretched slaves design'd to be,
 Our Queen with watchful eyes surveys
 Th' approaching storm and soon doth raise
 Two Royal Armies to withstand
 The bold Invaders of our Land,
 A Royal Fleet too she provides,
 But God himself the cause decides,
 The Lord of Hosts soon made them see There's none Invincible but He.
 We with a breath of wind doth blast Designs so mighty and so vast,
 That all might see that none but He An Universal King can be.

In the year of our Lord 1588. and in the one and thirtieth year of the most glorious reign of Q. Elizabeth, Philip the second King of Spain set forth this mighty fleet, the Spaniards themselves being so amazed at the vastness of it that they named it the Invincible Armada, it being the best furnished with men, amunition, and all manner of provision of any that ever the Ocean saw, consisting of a hundred and fifty tall ships, in which were twenty thousand Souldiers, and the D. of Parma was designed to bring out of Flanders fifty thousand more to join with them; it had also eight thousand six hundred mariners, two thousand and eighty gally-slaves, two thousand six hundred and thirty great Ordnance besides boats and tenders of all sorts with provisions, the Pope also contributed a million of gold to this design. All these were to be landed at the Thames mouth, that by seizing on the head, they might the more easily command the body of the Kingdom. The Queen had prepared a double guard, one for the land, and another for the sea, that by land was divided into two Armies, the one consisting of two and twenty thousand foot and a thousand horse commanded by the Earl of Leicester, whose camp was at Tilbury, where the Queen with a masculine spirit came and took a view of her Army, and riding about through the ranks of armed men drawn up on both sides her with a Leaders truncheon in her hand, sometimes with a martial pace another another while gently like a woman, it is incredible how much she encouraged the hearts of her Captains and Souldiers by her presence and speech to them. The guard by sea consisted of one hundred and forty ships, divided into 3 squadrons, commanded by the L. Howard Admiral, Sr. Francis Drake Vice-Admiral, and the Lord Henry Seymour Rear-Admiral.

When the mighty moving wood of Spain was entred into the British seas, and found the Queen so well prepared contrary to their expectation, they resolved rather to make a chase fight than lye by it. The Queen commanded the L. Admiral to make ready eight of her worst ships, and to besmear them with wild-fire, pitch and rosin, and fill them with brimstone and other combustible matter, which he sent down the wind in the dead of the night among the Spanish Fleet, who espying the flames, and thinking them deadly inventions and murdering engines, raised a sad outcry cry, and presently weigh'd anchor, cut their cables, and in a terrible Pannick fear with great hast and confusi- on put to Sea. Whereupon the Queens fleet under Drake and other brave Commanders took some of them, sunck and drove some on the sands, and many others being driven Northwards, and grievously tossed, impaired, and mangled by storms and wracks, and enduring all manner of miseries, at length returned with shame and dishonour, by all which ways were lost more than half the Spanish fleet, and of the English only one ship, and that of small value. And thus this great Armada which had been three compleat years in preparing with infinite expence, was within one months space many times fought with, and at last overthrown, with the loss of abundance of Spaniards, and this mighty design came to nought.

Gloria Deo.

A Thanksgiving for our deliverance from the Spanish Armada in 1588.

Most high and mighty Lord God Almighty, who workest wonders in the Heavens, in the Earth and in the Sea, who art a present help to all that call upon thee; we the people of these Nations have infinite cause to bless thy holy name for thy mercies of old to our Fathers, indelivering us from that slavery and misery that was design'd to be brought upon us by thine and our enemies, who intended to have tyrannized over our souls, our bodies, our consciences, they had prepared whips to scourge us, chains and fetters to bind and manacle us, and they did boast themselves to be invincible, and that none could withstand them, but thou O Lord

On the Spanish Invasion. 121

Lord didst blow upon them with a blast of thy mouth, and they were scattered like chaff before the wind, and they perished at thy presence; thou didst put fear into their hearts, and they fled, thou didst confound all their projects and devices, and they were all brought to nought. O Lord let us never forget this mercy of thine and the multitude of thy mercies that we have recieved since that time which thou knowest, O Lord, we have not improved as we ought, and may therefore justly fear that we have so provoked thee by our crying abominations that thou mayst once more give us over to Romish Tyranny. O Lord we beseech thee yet to remember mercy, and rather take us into thine own hand to correct us, than give us up into the hands of wicked and unmerciful men, whose tender mercies are cruelties, remember thy loving kindness to us of old, and save us according to thy wonted mercy, not for our own sakes, but for the merits.

Of the Powder Treason.

THe Plot was to undermine the Parliament-house, and with Poudre to blow up the King, Prince, Clergy, Nobles, Knights, and Burgessees, the very confluence of all the flower of Glory, Piety, Learning, Prudence and Authority in the Land, Fathers, Sons, Brothers, Allies, Friends, Foes, Papists and Protestants all at one blast.

This damnable design was contrived by some Priests, Jesuits and other Papists, to which end they took lodgings near the Parliament house, and then all the Conspirators took an oath of secrecy in these words.

You shall swear by the blessed Trinity, and by the Sacrament you now purpose to receive never to disclose directly or indirectly, by word or circumstance
the

the matter that shall be proposed to you to keep secret, nor desist from the execution thereof till the rest shall give you leave.

And now the business went on apace, and all things being ready, the 5th of November 1605, was the day designed for the execution, but about ten days before a letter directed to my Ld. Monteagle was delivered by an unknown person to his footman in the street with a strict charge to give it to his Lords own hand which accordingly he did, and the Lord being troubled at the contents presently imparted it to the Secretary of State, who soon presented it the King, which was in these Words

My LORD,

Out of the love I bear to some of your friends, I have a care of your preservation; therefore I would advise you, as you tender your life to devise some excuse to shift off your attendance at this Parliament

124 On the fifth of November.

Parliament, for God and man have concurred to punish the wickedness of this time, and think not slightly of this advertisement, but retire your self into your Country, where you may expect the event with safety; for though there be no appearance of any stir, yet I say they shall receive a terrible Blow this Parliament, and yet they shall not see who hurts them; this counsel is not to be contemned, because it may do you good, and can do you no harm, for the danger is past so soon as you have burnt the letter; and I hope God will give you the grace to make use of it, to whose holy protection I commend you.

The King reading this letter, did conclude by several dark passages in it, that it contained in it some extraordinary design, and therefore by the Blow did suppose was meant some blast of Gun-powder. And after strict search made under the Parliament house about midnight, the very night before the Parliament

Parliament was to set, at the door of the entrance of the cellar was found one Guy Fauks clothed and booted, he was apprehended, and then removing some billets that were laid to prevent discovery, they found the serpents nest stored with thirty six barrels of powder, and searching the Villain, there was found about him a dark lanthorn three matches, and other instruments for blowing up the powder.

And thus was this horrible plot discovered, and we saved, and the Conspirators received their deserved punishment.

Those that were first in the Treason were

A Thanksgiving for the fifth of November for Gods miraculous deliverance of this Land, King, and people from that horrid Gunpowder Treason 1605.

O Our gracious Lord God, who is like unto thee, or who can strive beyond thy admittance? hath any thing been done or attempted but what thou knowest of? Yea, thou seest all things, saveest all thine, and wilt not let a hair of their heads perish. O then who is like unto thee, for thou art ever gracious and merciful, slow to anger and of great kindness? O come then let us worship, and fall down, and kneel before the Lord our maker; for never any people had more occasion ministred unto them than this people of great Britain and Ireland, yea, all that belong to this

this Monarchy, to praise the great God of Majesty, Power, Might and Dominion, who did deliver us out of thralldome, when nothing was wanting for making this Sacrilegious Parricide a pattern of mischief, and a crime without example: they would have joyned the destruction of the body, to the head, so as all at one Thunderclap, should have been sent to Heaven together; the King our Head, the Queen our fertile Mother, and those young and hopeful Olive plants; yea, not only theirs, but also ours, our honourable and worthy Senators; yea, the whole representative body of the Land, without distinction of degree, or Age; yea, even the stones, and walls, should have felt their fury, and the Hall of Justice, the house of Parliament, the Church, used for the Corronation of our Kings, the Monuments of our former Princes, the Crown, and other Royalties, all the Records as well of Parliaments, as of every mans particular right, with a great number of Charters and such like, should all have been comprehended under that fearful Chaos, and the remaining trophies of the eternal glory of our former Princes, should have all been consumed together, and so not only we, but the memory of us and ours should have been extinguished in an instant: how can we therefore sufficiently magnify and praise thy great mercy, who didst thus preserve us when we were so near destruction? Therefore consider our dangerous estate, we come unto thee, O thou great and mighty Judge, in trembling and in fear, humbly beseeching thee not to heap upon us thy deserved vengeance, but let thy tender kindness and love thou bearest to Christ, thy dear Son our gracious Lord and Redeemer, cover our iniquities, for whose sake do thou pardon us, and have compassion

An Epitaph.

STay Passenger: Behold and see,
The widdowed grave of Majesty;
Why tremblest thou? her's that will make,
The most stupid Soul to shake.
Here lies entomb'd the Sacred dust,
Of Peace, and Piety, Right, and Just:
The Blood, (O start thou not to hear!)
Of a blest King, 'twixt hope and fear, Shed, and hurried hence to be,
The miracle of Misery!
The Law-giver, amongst his own,
Sentenc'd by a Law unknown.
Voted Monarchy to death,
By the course Plebian breath:
The Sovereign of all command, Suffering by a common Hand.
A Prince! to make the Odium more,

Matyrd at his very Dore.

The Head cut off! Oh, death to see'r,
In obedience to the Feet!

And that by Justice, you may know,
If thou hast Faith to think it so:

Wee'l stir no further then, this Sacr'd Clay,
But let it slumber till the Judgment Day.
Of all the Kings on earth, its not denyed,
Here lies the first that for Religion Dy'd.

wisdom not only guidest, and orderest all things most suitable to thine own Justice, but also per-formest thy pleasure, in such manner, that we cannot but acknowledg thee to be righteous in all thy ways, and holy in all thy works; We thy

the Blood of thine Anointed: we having drawn down the same upon our selves, by the great and long provocation of our sins against thee, for which we do therefore, here humble our selves before thee, imploring thy mercy for the pardon of them all, and that thou wouldest deliver this Nation from blood guiltiness, (that of this day especially) and turn from us, and our Posterity, all those Judgments, which we by our sins have deserved.

And now, O Lord, thou whose righteousness is like the strong mountains, and thy Judgments like the great deep, and who by the Martyrdom of thine Anointed, our Sovereign this day, hast taught us that neither the greatest Kings, nor the best of men are more secure from violent, then from natural death. Teach us also hereby, so to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom, and grant, that neither the splendour of any thing that is great, nor the conceit of any thing that is good in us, may any way withdraw our eyes from looking upon our selves, as sinful dust, and ashes, but that (according to the example of this thy blessed Martyr) we may press forward toward the price of the high calling, that is before us, in faith, and patience, humility, and meekness, mortification, and self-denial, charity, and constant perseverance, unto the end; and we desire to bless thee, O Lord, that thou didst not leave us for ever, as sheep without a shephard, but by thy gracious providence, didst miraculously preserve the undoubted Heir of his Crown, our most gracious Sovereign, KING CHARLES the Second, from his bloody enemies, hiding him under the shadow of thy wings, until their Tyranny was overpast, and bringing him back in thy good appointed time, to sit in peace upon the throne of his Father,

A Prayer in time of Pestilence.

O Mnipotent Lord, thou sin revenging God, who for disobedience, didst threaten thine own people Israel, to smite them in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore botch, that could not be healed; be pleased, O thou great offended Lord, in the bowels of thy compassion, to let thine anger cease, and

to bow down thine ear to thy sorrowful servants ; we turn unto thee our weeping eyes, our dejected countenances, our wringing hands, our bended Knees, our mournful voices, and our groaning hearts ; O Merciful God, behold our tears, and view our countenances, and look upon our hands, and strengthen our Knees, and hearken to our voices, and comfort our hearts ; Give us a sight of our sins, O Lord which have thus provoked thee, to enter into Judgment with thy Servants ; and make us more to loath, and tremble, at our wickedness, then at these Messengers of death ; wean us from the love of sin, from the consideration both of thy displeasure, and our own mortality ; and speak peace and health, unto our souls, which do every moment expect our dissolution to come ; O Lord, thou art a God, who canst not abide to behold unrighteousness ; look not there-therefore with thy wrathful eye upon us, who are full of sin, and pollution; but look upon thy Son, and his righteousness; or, if thou wilt look upon us, first clothe us with the righteousness of that immaculate Lamb, and so shalt thou see us, with love and delight, and we shall behold thee with unspeakable joy: Seal unto our souls the remission of our offences, and then make us willing to resigne our bodies to thy disposing, yet we know, O Lord, if thou dost but Speak the word, we shall be made whole; & if thou say'st, the Plague shall not come near our habitations, we then know we shall be safe; if it be thy blessed will, O Lord, let us praise thee in the land of the living; cleanse us from our sin, and take away our iniquities, and then we need not question, but thou wilt take away thy hand from off us. Hear us, O Lord, for our selves, and also for thy distressed people; and hear them for us, and hear thy Christ for us all; that to him and thee, and thy blessed Spirit, we may render, as is most due, all praise and glory, and Thanksgiving, and obedience, for evermore. Amen.

Th' fire marches on, roars, murmurs,

So this most ancient City, ruined fell,
And scarce can any story parallel,
In any Age, or Country, Town, or Nation,
So sudden, and so great a Devastation;
As in three fatal days, to ruinate,
To spoil, consume, destroy, depopulate.
A Place so Famous, so renowned for Glory;
That 'twas the Mirrour, both of Age and

THis lamentable Fire began Sept. 2. 1666. about one a clock in the morning in a Bakers house in Pudding-Lane near Fish-street Hill London, which raged extreamly (being blown with a strong North-East wind) so that despising all means used for its extinguishing, it spread far and wide, sometimes with, and against the Wind, and so continued for the space of near four days, till it had burnt down thirteen thousand two hundred houses which stood upon 337 acres of ground within the walls and 63 acres and 3 rod without, besides 89 Parish Churches, the most spacious Cathedral of St. Pau', six consecrated Chappels, the Royal Exchange, the great Guild-Hall, the Custom-house, many magnificent Halls of Companys, several principal City-gates, and other publick Edifices; which was accompanied with the loss of vast quantities of rich household-stuff, and goods of all sorts, but especially of 4 or 5 sorts.

of commodities, viz. Books (of which alone were lost near the value of 150 thousand pounds) Tobacco, Sugar, Wines, and Plumbs, being heavy goods, so that the whole loss is computed by an ingenious person to be nine millions and nine hundred thousand pounds, and yet by Gods providence not above six or eight persons were burnt in this vast Incendy.

A Prayer for Septemb. 2d. the beginning of that lamentable fire in London, 1666.

HOly Lord God, we must confess thou hast found out the iniquity of thy servants, and hast discovered our nakedness and pollution in a vengeance suited and answerable to our grievous crying sin: our pride, oppression, and fulness of bread, had made us like unto Sodom, and thou hast afflicted us like Gomorrha, we would would not be reclaimed by thy exemplary punishments upon others or our selves, and therefore thou hast made us a terror and an astonishment to all that are round about us; yet O Lord we must needs acknowledge that thou art just in all that is come upon us, for thou hast done right, but we have done wickedly; yet consider, O Lord, we are thy people, though a rebellious and unthankful people; suffer us therefore to implore thy pitty, and the sounding of thy bowels, and for thy names sake, and mercies sake, incline thine ear to us and save us: and above all, we beseech thee leave us not to our selves, but by what method soever it shall please thee to reduce us, thought to this cup of trembling, thou shalt add more and more grievous afflictions by any the severest course, subdue us unto thy self, and make us see the things belonging to our peace before they be hid from our eyes, that being duly humbled under thy mighty hand, we may

may be capable of being relieved and exalted in thy due time.

And now we bless and magnify thy name, O Lord, for that wonderful mercy thou hast vouchsafed us in the midst of thy just and dreadful judgments. It is of thy goodness that we are not consumed, that when we had provoked thee to give us all up to utter ruin and desolation, and thy hand was stretched out to execute thy whole displeasure upon us, yet thou hast preserved a remnant, and pluck'd us, as a brand out of the fire, that we should not utterly perish in our sins; add we beseech thee one mercy more to all that thou hast hitherto so unsuccessfully cast away upon us, and by thy convincing Spirit awaken our sleepy Consciences, soften and melt our hard hearts, that being humbled by thy chastisements, we may by thy goodness be led to repentance, and sin no more lest a worse thing come unto us; therefore let us faithfully improve this respite and relief with all its precious advantages and opportunities to a thankful, humble and profitable walking before thee, that so thy name may be glorified, the Gospel credited, and our Souls saved in the day of the Lord. Grant this O Father for Jesus Christ his sake our only Mediator and Redeemer. Amen.

 The roaring guns which pierce the part-

 With terror we on land far distant hear.
 They shake the massy Earth, & Thunder

 Houses & windows into trembling strike,
 And each broad-side which strikes my ear

 Now a brave ship with braver men doth sink
 Enraged mortals striving to outvie

 Main,
 Pours down like water in a shower of rain;

A Prayer in the Time of War.

ALmighty Lord God, Thou art he only which givest victory, to thee it is all one, to save by many or by few, thou canst make one to chase a thousand; thou canst cause the hearts, even of the most valiant to melt; their hands to be weak, their minds to faint, and their knees to fall a way like Water; if thou fight for us, we cannot miscarry; if thou favour us not, we must needs be discomfited: O be gracious unto us, and be on our side, now that men are risen up against us; Go out, O Lord, with our Navys, and Armies, give wisdom and courage to our Captains; gird them with strength unto the battel; be with our Sea-men, and Souldiers, teaching their hands to war and their fingers to fight: Assist their consultations, prosper their policies, crown their enterprises with good success, which are

are undertaken for the common good, and comfort of the State: Doubtless, O Lord, we deserved thine anger, and our Sins do cry aloud in thine ears for vengeance, & it were but just with thee, if thou shouldst make us a prey, and spoil unto our enemies; but, O gracious God, let us now fall into thy hands; for thy mercies are great, and let us not fall into the hands of men; let it appear that thou art in the midst of us, and that we shall not be moved; that thou wilt help us, and that very early? and in thy due time set thou peace in our borders, and make strong the bars of our Gates; especially let the Gospel of thy Son sound yet louder among us, that by it many Souls may be gathered unto thee; So we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, shall praise thee for ever, and from generation to generation, we will set forth thy glory, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, and only Saviour. Amen. H A

A Prayer in time of Prosperity.

H Eavenly Father, Lord of plenty, thou who hast created the world by thy power, and continuest thy love in thy providence, and protection; to thee do I render thanks, for my plenty, and to thee do I offer the service of my store; what I have, is thine; for the Earth is thine, and all that therein is; the Compass of the World, and they that dwell therein; it is thou only, that givest a blessing to the fruits of the Land, to the Corn, to the Wine, and to the Oyl; It is thou only, that commandest thy blessing in the store-houses, and in all that thy servants do set their hands unto; Lord make me one of thy faithful servants, that what thou hast sent me, may be a Testimony of thy love, and not of thy hatred; make me allways to magnify thee in the time of plenty, and not to be high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in thee the living God, who givest me all things richly to enjoy; O suffer me not, to treasure up the deceitful riches of this sinful world as thereby forgetting to be rich toward thee, but as from thy bounty I receive these temporal blessings, so in thy mercy, make me abound in grace, that all ways having sufficiency in all things, I may abound to every good work.

In this my prosperity, prepare me for adversity, if it shall please thee at any time to send it unto me, give me a sence of the afflictions of many of thy saints, and distressed servants, and enlarge my heart, that I may be ready, and forward to contribute to their necessities; make me to shew mercy with cheerfulness, and to possess with thankfulness what thou sendest unto me, that I may neither forget thee in thy poor members, nor deny thee to be the giver, let me never stop mine ears at the cries of the distressed who beg for relief in the name of thy self. Thou, Christ, who wert rich didst for my sake become poor, that so through thy poverty thou mightest make me rich; Lord make me as willing to the poor for thy sake, always considering that the Vanities of the earth are not worthy to be compared to the glory that shall be revealed. Make me labour for heavenly riches, and for the ornament of the hidden man in the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in thy sight of great price; make me, O heavenly Father, rich in thy self, rich unto liberality, rich in good works and in faith: make me to buy of thee gold tryed in the fire that I may be rich, and white rayment, that I may be clothed, that the shame of my nakedness may not appear; let me always remember that great account which one day I must render to thee, the Lord of Heaven and & earth, thatso I may serve thee here with my substance in my body, and in my Soul with zeal and devotion; and hereafter be received to thine everlasting glory, through the merits of thy Son, in thy bosom Jesus Christ, my only Lord and Saviour. Amen.

A Prayer in time of adversity.

Father of pittie and Lord of comfort, thou that hearest the cry of the afflicted, look down in mercy on a distressed Sinner; thy hand O God is heavy upon me, for thou hast taken from me what I called mine, by reason that I did not call it thine; O Lord thou knowest my bleeding heart, my sorrowful eyes, and my mourning tears; thou seest how poor I am and what miseries I suffer, I am a scorn to my neighbours, and a derision to those that are round about me: my life is become a burden unto me because thou hast deprived me of the comforts thereof; my lovers and my acquaintance stand looking upon my misery, and my kinsmen stand afar off; Lord if it be thy pleasure thus to humble me, let it be thy goodness to give me patience to endure it; the pride of my heart & my forgetfulness of thee in the time of plenty did cry aloud for thy severest punishments, now, O now I feel thy just displeasure and groan under the burden and weight thereof; yet thou, O Lord, canst ease me, thou canst restore me, hear Lord and have mercy, Lord be thou my helper, suffer me no more to rely upon the arm of flesh, or to put my trust in uncertain riches, but make me forever to depend upon thy bounty, forgive me, O Father, the sins which I have committed when I lived in prosperity, for I am sensible that they are a cause why at this time thou hidest thy face from me, and causest me to be troubled: O give me a sight and sense of the

the greatness of them and true contrition and sorrow for them; that so though the world forsake me, I may yet find favour and mercy in thy sight; without thy assistance this sore burthen is too heavy for me to bear, Lord either remove it from me, or make it easier for me to bear. Lend me thy gracious and helping hand, that as I am scourged with thy rod, so I may lean upon thy staff; let me never despair of thy comfortable relief, but in all my miseries be thou my refuge, be pleased to endue me with patience from above, that I may give no advantage to the Tempter in my suffering, open the eyes and the charitable hands of those that should see and know mine adversity, and so enlarge their hearts, that they may administer relief and comfort to me in the midst of my necessities.

Teach me by this chastisement the vanity of the World, and wean me from the fond delights thereof, and carry me so through the storms of this troublesom life, that in the end I may arrive at the happy haven of eternal peace and rest, through thy own merits and passion, O Jesus Christ, my Lord and only Saviour.

A Prayer before the receiving of the Sacrament.

O Most gracious and merciful Lord God, thou hast called all those that are weary and heavy laden with their sins to come unto thee, and hast promised to ease and refresh them;
thou hast invited all those that hunger and thirst after thy Kingdom and the righteousness thereof to come to thy Table, to tast of thy Supper, and hast promised that thou wilt satisfy them; in assurance therefore of these promises I come to thee, blessed Lord Jesus, beseeching thee to ease me, to refresh me, to satisfy me with thy mercy, for my Soul hungers and thirsts after thee & thy Salvation. I confess and acknowledge that my dayly sins have made me unworthy of my dayly bread, much more of this Manna, this Bread of life that came down from Heaven.

I confess, O Lord, I am not prepared according to thy preparation of thy Sanctuary, yet for as much as this day I have set my heart to seek to thee, thou, O God, be merciful unto me, and though I cannot bring with me a clean heart, (for who can say his heart is clean?) yet behold, O Lord, I bring with me a contrite heart and a broken spirit, despise not, O God, this Sacrifice. As for the sins that I have committed against thee, bind them up into one bundle, and cast them into the bottomless Sea of thy mercy, bury them in thy wounds, and wash them away in the blood of that immaculate Lamb Christ Jesus, and for the time to come sprinkle my Conscience with the same blood, that being cleansed from dead works I may serve thee the living God in righteousness and true holiness all the days of my life, that so this blessed Sacrament may be a means to quiet my Conscience, to increase my faith, to inflame my charity, to amend my life, to save my Soul, and to assure me that I am of the number of those blessed ones who shall eat at thy Table, and be called to the marriage Supper of the Lamb. Grant this, O Lord, for Jesus Christ his sake, in whose name and words I conclude these my imperfect prayers, saying as he himself hath taught me.

Our Father, &c.

*A Prayer after the receiving of the

O Most gracious God, from whose bounty every good and perfect gift is derived, I and all that is within me praise and magnify thy holy name for all thy mercies and favours which from time to time thou hast bestowed upon me. But especially I thank thee for Jesus Christ thy Son, the fountain and foundation of all blessings and benefits, that thou hast sent sent him into the world to take our nature upon him, and to die for us; and that thou hast fed me who am unworthy of the least of thy favours with the precious merits of his death and passion. Blessed Lord God, thou hast been pleased this day to set thy seal to the pardon and forgiveness of all my sins, oh let me not lose it again by unthankfulness, or relapsing into my old sins from which thou hast purged me, lest my last end be worse than my beginning. But if hereafter I shall be tempted by the Devil, allured by the world, or provoked by my own flesh, then set before mine eyes by the remembrance of thy Spirit how dear the expiation of my sins cost my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, even the effusion of his most precious and holy blood, that in the contemplation of his death, and application of his most bitter passion, I may die daily unto sin, and so may shew forth the Lords death till he come and bring his reward with him,

I may receive the Crown of Righteousness which he hath purchased and prepared for all those that love and expect the day of his appearing, with the precious price of his incorruptible blood. And whereas I have this day renewed my covenant with thee my God in vows and purposes of better obedience assist me by thy grace, and strengthen me by thy power, that I may pay the vows which I have made unto thee, and that by vertue of thy heavenly nourishment I may grow up in grace and godliness, till at last I come to be a perfect man in Christ Jesus.

Preserve and maintain always this thine Ordinance that it may be a note and a badge of my publick profession, and give unto all of us that have been partakers of thy body and blood, one heart and one mind in the unity of Spirit for the worthy and reverend receiving of the same whensoever we shall come to thy holy Table again; and for this thy mercy

cy towards me, do I yield unto thee all praise, and glory, and wisdom, and thanks, and honour, and power, and might, and majesty, through Jesus Christ our Lord, in whose most blessed name and words I further pray
Our Father, &c.

The Prayer of a Virgin.

Blessed Lord, Son of a Virgin, who didst honour Virginitie, when thou tookest our nature; hearken to the cries of a lamenting Maid; Lord I am not worthy to come unto thee; I am not worthy to receive any favour from thee, for I have forsaken thee, my most indulgent Husband, and have followed other Lovers. My soul is too much polluted to be called thine, too often have I broke my vows, and my promises, to hope for thy love, or thy gracious pardon. But Lord, what shall I now do

do, if yet I shall fall into a despair of thy Mercies, I should increase my disloyalty, and either deny or despise the power of thy Passion? So great was thy love to the Church, thy Spouse, that thou gavest thy self, to sanctifie and cleanse it, by the washing of water by the Word. My Soul, O Christ, is a member of thy Spouse, be pleased, O Jesus, so to sanctifie, and wash my soul, that thou mayst present it to thy self, without spot, or wrinkle, both holy and blameless.

O thou who hast opened a Fountain to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness, do thou wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity & cleanse me from my sin. And Lord, as in mercy thou hast given me Chastity of body, so give me likewise Chastity of mind, and purity of soul; suffer not either the flesh, or the Devil, by their wicked suggestions, to seduce me to uncleanness. And though I am but a weak and an earthen vessel, yet be thou pleased to make me a chosen vessel, a vessel of mercy; cause me to keep my body holy, and to possess it in sanctification and honour, and not in the lust of concupiscence, like the Gentiles which know thee not; O be thou my Father in the grace of Adoption, be thou my Brother in thy pity and compassion, be thou my Husband in thy love & affection, & be thou my Jesus in the salvation of my sinful Soul.

Arm me with constancy against all assaults of carnal imaginations; give me modesty in my countenance, decency in my apparel, civility in my behaviour, sobriety in my discourse, and contentedness in my condition; make me obedient to my Parents, respectful to my Superiors, courteous to my Inferiors, & loving unto all. Let not my adorning be outward of putting on of apparel, but give me that wisdom which is from above to be as an

an ornament of grace unto my head, and as chains about my neck; preserve, O Christ, both my body and Soul in chastity and honour while I am here upon Earth, as becometh a Virgin espoused to thy self, and when my dust shall return to the earth as it was, let my spirit return unto thy self who gavest it, and to thee let it sing that new song with the Quire of Virgins before thy Throne for ever and ever. Amen.

A Prayer of a Married Woman,

Almighty Lord, and everlasting Father, who hast been pleased to vouchsafe me the blessings of this life, and to give me my desires both in a husband and children; be pleased to give me a Thankful heart, for these thy Mercies; it is thy goodness, and not my merit, that I have received from thee these blessings of thy bounty; justly,

justly, O justly mightest thou at once deprive me of these comforts, because I have neglected my obedience to the one, and my care of the other. Humbly, O my God, I confess my failings, and am sorry for mine offences; Lord be gracious to me thy servant, and let me testify my thankfulness in my industrious care to perform my duties. Be thou still the Protector, and the gracious Defender both of me and mine: Bless him whom thou hast set over me, and grant that he may dwell with me, according to knowledg, that so we being heirs together of the grace of life, our prayers may not be hindered. As thou hast made me a fruitful Vine by the Walls of his house, so make me endeavour to be fruitful in good Works, and increase in the Knowledge of thee my God. Let those Olive branches about my Table be every one like a green Olive in the house of thee

The Prayer for a Woman with Child.

MOST Merciful and Gracious God, who wilt not turn away thine Ear, from those that call upon thee in sincerity and truth, Look down with an Eye of pity and compassion, upon thy unworthy servants; I must confess, my sins are very great, and so is my danger, which is at hand; my paines to come will be grievous, and my life is now most uncertain. Assure me I beseech thee, of the forgiveness of all my sins, mitigate my fear and sorrows, strengthen me with the comforts of thy Spirit, confirm me in the Faith of my Saviour, and bless all good means, appointed for my comfort, that in due time I may be a joyful Mother, and see the fruit of my body, safe, sound found and perfect, without blemish or deformity.

O Lord, I know not how soon my travel will steal on me, when I must fight that battle of life and death, one drop of thy mercy hath soveraign power, to cure all the Wounds of those sorrows; Shed therefore, O holy Father, that drop of grace upon me, in that minute when I am to encounter with so stern an adversary; strengthen me with patience, bless me that I perish not; bless the work of my Midwife; let not the child yet unborn, the babe in my Womb, be punished for mine offences; but give it growth, give it flourishing, and form; and when the time is come, that thou wilt call it out of this close house of flesh, where it now inhabiteth, to dwell in the open world, sanctifie thy creature, make it by Baptisme, a member of thy Church, a Lamb of thy Flock, and direct it in the wayes of godliness

The Prayer of a Woman, in the Time of her Travel.

O My Lord, and my God, my heavenly Father, my merciful Jesus, upon whom I depend in the midst of my Anguish, hoping in thy wonted mercies; Bow down thine Ear, and harken to the cries of a pained Woman; unto thee O Lord do I cry, thou art my refuge, and my portion in the Land of the living; Attend therefore unto my cry, for I am brought very low; Consider mine affliction, and deliver me, for I do not forget thy Law; all my desire is before thee, and my groaning is not hid from thee; in thee I trust, who art the living God, who

who art the Saviour of all, especially of them that believe; I love thee, O Lord, my strength, thou art my Rock and my fortress, my strength, in whom I trust, my buckler, the horn of my Salvation, and my high Tower; O save me now in this heavy distress and deliver thy servant; hear me, O Lord, in this day of trouble; O God of Jacob defend me; Give an happy end to these my torments, that I may enjoy the fruit of my Womb, for which I suffer them; O Lord in mercy if it may stand with thy eternal decree, preserve both my life and the life of my issue, arm me with patience to undergo these pangs, and in the end give me comfort in what thou shalt send me; but if otherwise thou hast determined to end my life by these heavy torments, O my sweet and merciful Jesus, receive me into thy bosom that I may pass from misery to eternal happiness. Hear, O Lord

A Prayer of a Woman after her delivery.

O Merciful God and heavenly Father, who hast now most especially made known unto me that thou art able to do more exceeding abundantly above all that we can ask or think; make me thankfully to rejoyce in the works of thy love and thy tender mercy, thy favours are great and wonderful in sparing the life of my self and mine Infant, and freeing me from from my pangs, and it from the Darkness of the silent Womb.

Thine, O Lord, is thy power, by what I am delivered; thine is the mercy, by which I am safely returned into my bed; thine is the work of the frame and fashion of this my Babe; thine therefore shall be likewise thy glory for ever that I may never forget thy goodness, but may express my thankfulness, in new obedience.

Make me careful to perform what service I promised thee, in the extremity of mine Anguish: As thou hast given me the fruit of my body to the joy of my heart, so give me the fruit of Righteousness down in Peace. Give me the Wisdom which is from above, that is full of good Works, without hypocrisy. Lord make me thy servant rows which I endured at his birth ; Give thy blessing on the meanes for the nourishment of this Child : Give it strength, that it may live to receive the seal of thy Mercy, in the Laver of Baptism ; and do thou be present with thy blessing, when the sign shall be administred. O let it live, if it be thy blessed Will, and grow up in wisdom, and in stature, and in grace, both with thee and with men ; that so I may magnifie thy Name, for making me an instrument to propagate the number of thine Elect. Take pity upon all that suffer afflictions, especially on those Women who are in La-comfort in the time of their mise-in their desired Issue and thankfulness for thy blessings ; Lord grant that both I and they, may sing praise of our deliverance, and express our thanks, in our godly lives ; that

The Prayer of a Widdow.

O God, in the knowledg of whom is the perfection of all joy, at whose right hand are pleasures for evermore, thou makest the comforts of this life momentany, that we may not overprize them, and yet hast made them requisite, that we may not undervalue them; I a late sharer of this worlds happiness, but now a sad witness of its Vanity, do here address my self to thee, the only Crown of all my joys; in whom there is no variableness, nor shadow of chang: Lord thou didst give me what my unthankfulness hath taken from me; but thou hast taken from me, what thy goodness hath promised to Supply; Thou hast given, and thou hast taken, blessed be thy name for ever; Thou then, O God, who art not less able to perform, then willing to promise, whose mercy is more ready to bestow, then my misery is to beg; strengthen my faith, that I may beleive thy promise; encourage my hopes, that I may expect thy performance; quicken my affections, that I may love the Promiser; Be thou all in all unto me, that am nothing without thee; Sweeten my misery, with the sence of thy mercy; and lighten my darkness with the Sun of thy glory; Seal in my heart the assurance of adoption, that I may with boldness, call thee my Father; sanctifie my affections, with the Spirit of meekness, that my conversation may testify testify that I am thy Child ; wean my heart from worldly sorrow, lest I mourn like those that have no hope ; But thou my Bridegroom, and let our marriage-chamber be thy heart ; Own me as thy Bride, and purifie me ; with the odours of thy spirit prevent me, with thy blessings protect me, by thy grace preserve me for thy self, and prepare me for thy Kingdom ; be thou a Father to bless me, be thou a husband to comfort me ; in the midst of my want, be thou my plenty ; in the depth of my mourning, be thou my mirth ; Raise my glory from the dust, and then my dust shall shew forth thy praise ; Supply all my wants, for the sake of

The Prayer of an Orphan.

ALmighty God, and heavenly Father, who art a Lord of comfort, and a God of Consolation, look down upon a sinful and distressed Orphan, bereft of the joy and help of earthly Parents; It was my own unworthiness (of so loving parents) that hath made thee, to take them away from mine eyes; my disobedience to their commands, and my neglect of honouring them according to thy laws, hath provoked thee to anger, and to deprive me of them; O Lord forgive me my manifold offences, and remember thy promises, which thou hast made unto the fatherless; and that I may be capable of those thy promises, give me grace to become thy child by obedience; thou, O Lord, art my Father, to whom belongeth honour; thou art art my Master, and requirest me to fear thee; Lord make me fear to offend thee, who art a righteous Judg, and make me love, and honour thee, who art a gracious Father; be with me in all the ways wherein I shall walk in this mortal life; comfort me in my sorrows, support me in my miseries, provide for me in my wants; and in all places, and at all times, be thou my Father, my Rock, and my strong salvation; do thou defend the poor and fatherless, do justice to the afflicted and needy: Supply all my wants, and confer upon me all necessary blessings: O be reconciled unto me, in the blood of thy Son, that I may here depend upon thy fatherly protection, and may hereafter be received into thy heavenly Kingdom, there to reign with thee, world without end, through Jesus Christ, my Lord and Saviour: in whose blessed name and words, I conclude my imper-

The Prayer of a Marriner.

Most glorious, and eternal God, whose power and wisdom is infinite, and whose dominion is without end; thou canst order and dispose of thy poor creatures to thy own praise, and to their souls comfort; Be pleased to look down from heaven, the habitation of thy dwelling place, and take notice of the broken requests of a poor worm, in thy presence, that is not worthy to take thy name into his lips: Lord, I may well say, What is man that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou shouldst visit him? that thou shouldst compass him about with loving kindness as with a garment? The divine Architecture of this and every morning thou preventest me with thy loving kindness, and though sin hath abounded, yet thy grace hath superabounded, Thou dost fulfil the desires of them that fear thee; oh now as thou hast given me a new life, and delivered me from the dangers and terrors of the deep waters, so be graciously pleased to give me a thankful heart: let there be found in me hungry and thirsting after righteousness, that I may be brought home at last to that land of promised blessedness. A Prayer to be used by all Christians.

O Almighty everlasting God, and most gracious and dear loving Father, I beseech thee for Jesus Christ his sake, thy most dear and only Son, to have mercy, pitty, and compassion upon a most vile, wretched, and miserable sinner, whose innumerable offences both old and new are grievous and great, by which I have justly deserved thy grievous wrath and everlasting damnation. But now good Lord, I do only appeal to thy great mercy which far surmounteth all thy works, and thou hast promised in thy holy Word, yea, and sworn as truly as thou livest, that thou desirest not the death of a sinner, but rather that he should repent and live. O gracious Lord, I do confess that I am a great and grievous Sinner; yet, O Lord let me not perish, nor suffer that everlasting death of my Soul, which which I have so deeply deserved, but make me a vessel of thy great mercy, that I may live and praise thy name amongst thy chosen Children for ever. O let not my great sins separate me from the sight of thy holy Majesty, but let thy great power and mercy be magnified in me as it was in David, and Peter, and Mary Magdalen, and the Thief upon the cross. O Lord I put my whole trust and confidence in thee, who hast taken away the sins of the World, who camest not to condemn the World, but to save it, that none which truly believe in thee should perish, but should have everlasting life, who camest not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance: O gracious God, give me true, hearty, earnest, and unfeigned repentance, that I may from the very bottom of my heart continually lament my manifold sins and wickednesses, and so assist me with thy grace that I may never trespass against thy divine Majesty any more, but that I

Guide me O Lord by thy holy Spirit in all my ways, works, words, and thoughts, that I may glorify thy holy name, which livest and reignest for ever through Jesus Christ my blessed Lord and Saviour, in whose name and words I further pray.

A Prayer of a sick person.

Faithful Creator, and preserver of all men, look down I beseech thee upon thy poor servant, who is punished and afflicted in body with the smart of my pain and sickness; and who is also troubled with the fear of thy heavy displeasure for my many sins and iniquities, wherewith I have provoked thy holy Majesty in the time of my health, I confess that of very very faithfulness and goodness to me, thou hast laid this scourge upon me to the end that by the stripes of my flesh my spirit might be healed and saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. I valued not the benefit of health as I should have done, and therefore thou hast made me sensible of it, by the want of it; in my prosperity I remembered not the afflictions of my brethren, and therefore thou hast afflicted me like unto them, I was in a kind of spiritual lethargy, till thou didst awake me with the stroke of thy hand; and because I know that it is good for me to be thus disciplined by thee, I humble my self under thy mighty hand, & kiss this thy rod, which I trust through thy grace shall make my Soul appear fair & beautiful in thine eyes. Comfort O Lord, my fainting spirit, and strengthen my feeble knees, and support my weak hands and revive my deaded heart, and so powerfully assist me with the spirit of strength, that I may with confidence call upon thee, with patience endure this trial, with hope expect thy good pleasure, with wisdom make use of this thy Visitation, and with thankfulness ever praise thy goodness and mercy for my safe recovery, if it may with thy sacred will; whereunto I submit and wholly resign now and for ever, through Jesus Christ my blessed Lord and Saviour, in whose most holy words I further pray,

Our Father,

A Thanksgiving after recovery.

O Lord God of my health and salvation, who hast known my Soul in trouble, and didst make my bed in my painful and dangerous sickness, and hast now raised me out of it to stand before thee, I offer now unto thee a sacrifice of praise because I employed not the faculties of my Soul, and members members of my body as I should have done, thou didst bereave me of the strength, and vigour, and use of them for a season, but now because thy compassion fails not, thou hast returned them to me again, wherefore I consecrate and devote them perpetually to thy service, and as I am in the state of my body, so by the power of thy renewing grace I will become in the estate of my Soul a new man. My broken heart which thou hast healed shall now entirely love thee, my feeble knees and weak bones which thou hast settled shall night and day bow to thee, my weak hands which thou hast strengthened shall continually be lifted up unto thee. I confess unto thee, O Lord, that in my health I often read and heard that worldly delights and comforts were vain, and much like flags and bulrushes, which men in danger of drowning catch to bear them up, but they sink down under water with them, yet did I not learn till I suffered, till thy rod had imprinted imprinted it even in my flesh. Now O Lord I beseech thee to knit my heart unto thee, that I may fear thy name, create in me a new heart, & renew a right spirit within me. I asked life of thee & thou gavest it me, I now desire and crave thy Salvation, O my God withhold it not, make me to repent of my sins (the cause of my sickness) and to depend upon thee, the giver of all good things, and make me in the time of prosperity to think of adversity, in health to think of sickness, in sickness to think of death, and at all times so to think of judgment, that whither I wake or sleep, eat or drink, or whatsoever I do else, I may ever have this voice sounding in mine ears, Arise ye dead and come to judgment. Give me grace, O Lord, to make this use of mine affliction past, and to cleave and stick fast unto thee in all holiness for the time to come, through my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, in whose name and words I further pray, Our Father, &c.

*The Prayer of the Sick now ready to ETernal and Omnipotent, infinite incomprehensible God, Lord of my life, and determiner of my days; my body now is returning into dust, and my soul returning to thee, that gavest it; O Lord, most holy, O most mighty, draw near unto me, who make hast to come unto thee; give me a clearer sight of thee, by how much the nearer I am out of the dark prison of my body; Give me also a quicker tast of the powers of the life to come, that I may the more comfortably pass over these last troubles of this present life; O Father of mercy, and God of all consolation, let not the guilt of my sins, or horror of thy judgments, or Satans suggestions, or the fear of death:

At the Hour of death.

Welcome blessed hour, the period of my pilgrimage, the term of my bondage, the end of my cares, the close of my sighs, the bound of my travels, the goal of my race, and the heaven of my hopes, I have fought a long fight in much weakness; I have finished my course, though in great faintness; and the crown of my joy is, that through the strength of thy grace, I have kept the true faith, and now I dye in it; I willingly resign my flesh, I despise the world, and I despise the Devil, who hath no part nor share in me; And now, what what is my hope? my hope, Lord Jesus, is even in thee, for I know that thou my Redeemer livest, and thou wilt immediately receive my soul, and raise up my body at the last day, and I shall see thee in my flesh, with these eyes, and no others; my heart fainteth, my strength faileth, my tongue faltereth; Lord let thy spirit of comfort help mine infirmities, and make Supplication for me, with sighs and groans that cannot be uttered; I submit myself wholly to thy will, I commit my soul to thee, as my faithful Redeemer, who hast bought it with thy most precious blood; I profess to all the world I know no name under heaven, by which I may be saved, but thine, my Jesus, my Saviour; I renounce all confidence in any merits save thine; I thankfully acknowledg all thy blessings; I unfainedly bewail all my sins, I steadfastly believe all thy promises; I heartily forgive all mine enemies

I willingly leave all my friends ; I utterly loath all earthly comforts ;
I entirely long for thy coming ;
Come Lord Jesus, come quickly ;
Lord Jesus receive my spirit.

Within thy Gates can nothing Come,
(which is not passing Clean:
No Spiders Web, no Dust, no Dirt, (No Filth may there be Seen.

Thy Saints are Crown'd with Glory great,
(They see God face to face;
They still Triumph, they still Rejoyce, (Most happy is their case.

We that live here in Banishment, (continually do Moan
We sigh, we Sob, we Weep, we Wail, (continually we Groan.

But there they in such pleasure Live, (and such delight alway,
That unto them a thousand Years (doth seem but Yesterday.

Thy Vineyards, and thy Orchards, are (Most beautiful and Fair)
Full furnished with Trees about,

12.

(Continually are Green;
There grows such sweet and pleasant Fruit, (As no where else is Seen.

There's Nectar and Ambrosia, (There's Musk and Civet Sweet;
There's many fine and dainty Drugs (lie trodden under Feet.

There's Cinamon, and Sugar too;
(There Myrrh and Balm abound;
What tongue can tell, or heart conceive,
The joys that there are found.

(Streams
Quite through the streets, with silver
(The flood of Life doth flow,
Upon whose Banks on every side,

The trees do evermore bear Fruit,
(And evermore do spring,
There evermore do Angels sit,
(And evermore do sing.

There David stands with Harp in hand,
 (As Master or e a Quire;
 Ten thousand times that man is Blest,
 (that doth this Musick hear.

Gods praises there are always sung, with (Harmony most sweet: Old Zachary, and Simeon, Have not their (songs to seek.

 (cheerfully doth sing,
 With blessed Saints, whose Harmony (In every street doth Ring.

O Heavenly frame, Jerusalem, As length I (hope to see,
 Thy glorious Throne, and in the same,
 For evermore to be.

O Heavenly City, fair, and bright, when (shall I come to thee,
 When shall my sorrows have an end, Thy (Joys that I may see.

Upon the Passion.

THus died the Prince of Life ; He
That could not die, even dyed for me:
My thoughtful heart, Lord shall arise,
And ponder these deep Mysteries.

What means his Death, that knew no sin?
Or what my life, who live therein?
Mine was the debt, and Death my due,
Though thou wast pleas'd thy Son to sue.

Thou Lord, wast pleas'd on him to lay
The debt, and He the price to pay :
Thy Gospel-feasts, though sweet to me
Are the Emblems of His Agony.

And Oh ! how great his Sufferings were,
Who the Wrath of God & man did bear ;
The Father then forsakes the Son,
And creatures against their maker run.

Judas betrays, Disciples flee,
— whilst Jews and Romans Crucifie :
Hereat the Sun furls up his light,
And clothes the Earth in sable Night.

The joyless Stars even seemed to say,
 Israel had quenched the Lamp of day;
 The stubborn Mountains they lament,
 The Rocks they are asunder Rent.

The Graves their sealed doors uncloset;
 The dead awakened, also Rose;
 The amazed Centurion, mourning cries,
 Ob! 'tis the Son of God that Dyes.

Thus these all labour to confess Thy Deity, thy Righteousness.
 Enough Dear Lord! these offer me
 Supports, for the utmost faith in thee.

The Souls, Farwell.

Farwel poor world! I must be gone;
 Thou art no home, no rest for me;
 I'll take my staff, and travel on,
 Till I a better world may see.

Why art thou loath my heart? O why Do'st thou recoil within my Breast?
 Greive not but say Farwel, and fly Unto the Ark, my Dove! there's Rest.

I come, my Lord, a Pilgrims pace,
Weary and weak I slowly move,
Longing, but can't yet reach the place,
The gladsome place of rest above.

I come my Lord! the floods here rise,
These troubled Seas foam nought but mire;
My Dove back to my bosom flies;
Farwel poor world! Heaven's my desire.

Stay, stay, said Earth, whether fond one Here's a fair World, what wouldst thou (have,
Fair World, Oh no! thy beauties gone,
An heavenly Canaan, Lord, Ferave.

Thus th' ancient Travellers; thus they Weary of earth, sigh'd after thee;
They are gon before, I may not stay,
Till I both thee and them may see.

Put on my Soul! put on with speed,
Though th' way be long, the end is sweet.
Once more, poor world! Farwel indeed,
In leaving thee, my Lord I meet.

Of Mans Life, by the Right Honourable the Lord B.

THE World's a Bubble, and the life of (Man, In his Conception, wretched from the
 (Womb,
 (So to the Tomb.
 First in the Cradle, and brought up to (Years, (With cares and fears.
 Who then to frail Mortality shall trust,
 But Limns the Water, or but (Writes in dust.
 Yet since with sorrow here we live op(prest, (What life is best?
 Courts are but only Superficial Schools
 To dandle fools.
 The Rural parts are turn'd into a den,
 (Of savage men.
 And where's a City from all vice so free.
 But may be termed the worst of all the (three)

Domestick

3.
Domestick cares afflict the husbands bed (Or pains his head.
Those that live single, take it for a Curse,
(Or do things worse.
Some would have children, those that (have them moan,
(Or wish them gone.
What is it then to have, or Have no Wife;
But a single thralldome, or a double strife.
Our affections still at home to please,
(Is a disease;
To cross the Sea to any forreign soil, (Perils and Toyl;
Warrs with their noyse affright us;
(when they cease,
(We are worse in peace.
What then remains? but that we still (should cry,
Not to be born, or being born to die.

All Vanity but Virtue.

Sweet day, so cool, so calm, so bright,
The Bridle of the Earth and Sky.
Sweet dews shall weep thy fall to Night,
(For thou must Die.
Sweet Rose, whose hew, angry and Brave,
Bids the rash Gazer wipe his Eye,
Thy root is ever in its Grave,

And

And thou must Die.

Sweet Spring, full of sweet Days, and (Roses,

A Box where sweets compacted lye ;

My Musick Thews you have your Closes,

(And all must Die.

Only a sweet and virtuouse Soul,

Like seasoned Timber never gives,

And when the whole World turns to Cozl

The Vanity of mans Life.

WHat are poor men, but quickned lumps of earth,

A feast for worms, a bubble full of breath,

A looking-glass for grief, a flash, a minute,

A painted tomb with putrefaction in it.

A map of death, a burthen of a Song,

A winters dust, a worm of five foot long,

Begot in sin, in darkness nourisht, born

In sorrow, naked, shiftless, and forlorn ;

His first voice (heard) is crying for relief,

Alas he comes into a world of grief.

His first age is sinful, & his youth is vain,

His life's a punishment, his death's a pain.

His life's an hour of joy, a world of sorrow,

(morrow.

Mans

Mans life's an hour-glass, which being run
Concludes that hour of joy, and so is done.

How poor a thing is man? how vaine his mind?

How strange, how base, and wavering like (the wind?

How uncouth are his ways, how full of (danger?

How to himself is he himself a stranger?

His hearts corrupt, and all his thoughts (are vaine;

His actions sinful & his words prophane;

His wills deprav'd, his senses are beguiled,

His reasons dark, his members are defiled,

His guilty hands are ever bent to kill.

His tongues a sponge of venom, or of worse

His practice is to swear, his skill to curse.

His eyes are fire-balls of lustful fire,

And outward helps to inward soul desire.

His body is a well-erected station,

3.

How slight a thing is man, how frail & brittle

How seeming great is he, how truly little.

Within the bosom of his holiest works,

Some hidden embers of old Adam lurks,

Which oftentimes in men of purest ways

Burst out in flame, and for a season blaze.

Lord teach our hearts, and give our souls (directions,

Subduc

Subdue our passions, curb our stout affections.

And in thy mercy grant this boon to me,
That I may die to sin, and live to thee.

That all may touch, and being toucht, it cracks,

Death is a Kalender compos'd by fate,
Concerning all men, never out of date;
His days Dominical are writ in blood;
She shews more bad days, then she shew-

She tells when days, and months, and terms expire,

Mesuring the lives of mortals by her squire
Death is a Pursuant with Eagles wings,
That knocks at poor mens doors, and gates of Kings.

Worldling beware betimes, death seukts (behind thee,
And as she leaves thee, so will Judgment find thee.

A Farewell to the World by the Honourable Sir H. W.

(bles,
Farewel ye gilded follies, pleasing trou-Farewel ye honoured rags, ye glorious bubbles, Fames

The Vanity of Life

213

Fames but a hollow Eccho, gold pure clay,
Honour the darling but of one short day,
Beauty, the eyes idol, but a damask'd skin,
State but a golden prison to live in,
And torture free-born minds; imbroydered trains,
Meerly but pagents for proud swelling veins
And blood ally'd to greatness is alone;
Inherited not purchas'd, not our own.
Fame, honour, beauty, state, train, blood (and birth,

I would be great, but that the Sun doth still Level his rays against the rising hill;
I would be high, but see the proudest oak,
Most subject to the rending thunderstroke
I would be rich, but see men too unkind,
Dig in the bowels of the richest mine;
I would be wise, but that I often see
The fox suspected, whilst the ass goes free,
I would be fair, but see the fair & proud,
Like the bright Sun oft setting in a cloud.
I would be poor, but see the humble grass
Still trampled on by each unworthy Ass,
Rich hated, wise suspected, scorn'd if poor,
Great fear'd, fair tempted, high still en-(vyed more.
I have wish'd all, but now I wish for neither Great, high, rich, wise, nor fair, (poor, Ile be rather.

Would

Would the world now adopt me for her (heir, would beauties Queen entitle me the fair,
 Fame speak me fortunes minion, could I vy
 Angels with India, with a speaking eye
 Command bare heads, bow'd knees, strike (Justice dumb,
 As well as blind & lame, or give a tongue
 To stones by epitaphs, be call'd great (master,
 In the loose rimes of every Poetaster.
 Could I be more than any man that lives,
 Great, fair, rich, wise, in all superlatives;
 Yet I more freely would these gifts resign
 Than ever fortune would have made them mine.
 And hold one minute of this holy leasure,
 Beyond the riches of this empty pleasure.

 Welcome pure thoughts, welcome ye silent
 These guests, these courts my Soul most (dearly loves.
 Now the wing'd people of the sky shall sing
 My cheerful anthems to the gladsom spring
 A pray'r book now shall be my looking(glass,
 In which I will adore sweet vertues face.
 Here dwell no hateful looks, no palace (cares, No broken vows dwell here, nor palefac'd fears.

A farwel to the World. 215

Then here Ile sit & sigh my hot-loves folly
And learn to affect an holy melancholly.
And if contentment be a stranger then,
Ile nere look for it but in Heaven agen.

Conclusion.

Birth is a brag, Glory a blaze,
Honours earths pomp, riches a gaze.
Fame is but a wind, Beauty a flower.
Pleasure a dance, the World a bower
In Heaven with thee, Lord let me be:
On earth, my Heaven's alone in thee.

Quatuor Novissima:

O R,

Meditations on the four Last Things;

Death, Judgment, Heaven, and Hell.

Death.

Can he be fair that withers at a blast,
Or he be strong that airy breath can (cast ?
Can he be wise, that knows no how to live
Or he be rich, that nothing hath to give ?
Can.

Can he be young that's feeble, weak, & wan
 So fair, strong, wise, so rich, so young is man
 So fair is man, that death, a parting blast, Blast his fair flower, & makes him earth at (last,

So strong is man, that with a gasping breath
 He totters and bequeaths his strength to (death.

So wise is man that if with death he strive
 His wisdom cannot teach him how to live So rich is man, that, all his debts being payd

His wealths the winding sheet wherein he (layd:

So young is man, that broke with care and (sorrow,

He's old enough to day to die to morrow.
 Why brag'st thou then, thou worm of five (foot long,

Thou art neither fair nor strong;
 Nor wise nor rich nor young.

Judgment.

The trumpet shall blow, the dead awak'd (shall rise,

And to the clouds shall turn their won(dring eyes,

The Heavens shall open, the Bridegroom (forth shall come,

To Judge the World, and give the World (her doom.

 To those the voice bids come, to these depart.

Depart.

Depart from life, yet dying live for ever ;
For ever dying be, and yet dye never.

Depart like dogs, with Devils take your lot, Depart like Devils, for I know you not.

Like doggs, like Devils, go, go, howl and (bark,

Depart in darkness, for your deeds were dark
Let roaring be your musick, and your food,
Be flesh of vipers, & your drink their blood
Let fiends afflict you with reproach & shame,
Depart, depart into eternal flame.

If Hell the portion then of sinners be,

Lord give me hell on earth :

Lord give me Heaven with thee.

Heaven

When I consider New Jerusalem.

Wherein's reserv'd my Crown, my diadem,

O what a Heaven of bliss my Soul enjoyes,

Oa sudden rapt into that Heaven of joyes,

Where troops of Powers, Vertues, Cheru-

Angels, Archangels, Saints and Seraphims,

Are chaunting praises to their heavenly

King,

Where Hallelujahs they for ever sing.

Where ioyes are full and pure, not mixt with mourning ;

All endless, & from which is no returning.

No theft no cruel murder here

No hoary-headed care, no new fear,

No pinching want, no griping last, oppression,

No

Nor Death, the stipend of our first transgression;
But dearest friendship, love & lasting pleasure,
Still there abides without stint or measure
Fulness of riches, comfort sempiternal,
Excess without surfeiting, & life eternall.
Hell.

Let Poets please to torture Tantalus,
Let griping Vultures gnaw Prometheus,
And let poor Ixion turn his endless wheel,
Let Nerves torment with whips of steel :
They far come short t' express the pains of those,
That rage in hell, enwrapt in endless woes,
Where time no end, and Plagues find no exemption,
Where cries admit no help, nor place Redemption.
Where fire lacks no flame, the flame no heat,
To make their torments sharp, & plagues complete,
Where wretched Souls to tortures bound shall be.
Serving a world of years, and not be free.
Where nothings heard but yells, and suddain cries ;
Where fire never slack, nor worm ere dies
But where this Hell is placed, my muse stop there
Lord shew me what it is, but never where.
Of Death and Judgment, Heaven & Hell,
Who oft doth think, must needs die well.
